House To Vote On New Tax Bill This Afternoon

Greatest Tax Bill In American History Is Before Congress

By RAYMOND WILCOVE (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The house votes today on a 7.2 billion dollar tax bill—greatest in American history—and indications are that it will be adopted.

Republicans will try to send the bill back to the ways and means committee without house approval. The house will begin voting shortly after 4 p. m. (EDT).

New Income Taxes

The measure provides for an additional 12 and one-half per cent "defense" tax on individual incomes as well as higher corporation income taxes, and new excise levies.

Personal income taxes, for example, would be raised from $488 to $549 a year for a single person with a $3,000 income and no dependents. For a married couple with no dependents and a $3,000 income, the tax would jump from $360 to $405. In the case of a married couple with two dependents, it goes from $120 to $135.

There were some who thought the GOP move might succeed. To be successful, the Republicans must hold their own lines intact and pick up some Democratic votes.

Cautiously Optimistic

Democratic leaders were cautiously optimistic in their predictions. They felt confident the GOP recommendation would be defeated if the full Democratic vote could be gotten out. Many members are usually absent on Fridays, Democrats more so than Republicans.

One partial Democratic poll showed 100 Democrats against recommitment, two for, and 10 in doubt. A Republican poll showed 152 for recommitment, 22 against.

The house lineup is 232 Democrats, 200 Republicans, one Independent, and two vacancies. Normally there are 75 absentees in the house, but on an important vote such as this that number should be reduced somewhat.

New Taxes Inevitable

Since it is generally conceded that some new taxes are inevitable in view of the gigantic sums being expended for defense, the ways and means committee would probably report a new bill out as soon as possible if the present measure were recommitment.

What changes it would make are problematical. One possibility is that it would reduce the hike on individual and corporation income taxes and levy a national sales tax.

However, that alternative would

Man Is Killed In Auto Crash Near Slippery Rock

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., June 22.—(INS)—A Springfield man was killed yesterday when the car skidded into a bridge near Slippery Rock. State police identified the man as Everett Mills, 47, of Springfield, and the woman as Katherine Fahner, 40, also of Springfield.

Harvesting work is progressing rapidly on many farms in the county. Pa. News noted one farm where the hay had already been baled in the field.

Many of the wheat fields around the county are rapidly turning a golden brown, indicating that wheat harvesting will soon be in progress.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Francis P. Matthews (left) has decided to resign as Secretary of the Navy to become United States Ambassador to Ireland. He will be succeeded in the Navy post by Under-Secretary Dan A. Kimball (right).

Release Will Be Sought For Arrested Reds, Under Bail

NEW YORK, June 22.—(INS)—Attorneys for 14 Communist leaders seized in an FBI roundup Wednesday morning will submit briefs today seeking the release of their clients from jail under bail.

Sixteen of the "second team" of Communist leaders were arrested in New York. A 17th was seized in Pittsburgh and FBI men are hunting four others who were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury on charges of conspiring to overthrow the government.

Israel Amter, one of those arrested, was freed in the custody of his attorney Wednesday because he is ill. Another Communist functionary was released in bail yesterday with the posting of $5,000 in cash.

Bail on the entire group was set at a total of $176,000. The Communists' attorneys argued unsuccessfully before Judge Samuel H. Kaufman for a reduction of this and for acceptance of $35,000 in government bonds offered by the Leftist Civil Rights Congress.

An appeal was then taken before Judge Jerome Frank of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals who reserved decision and requested the briefs.

Deadlock On State Tax Plan Is Not Broken

HARRISBURG, June 22.—(INS)—No sign of a break is apparent today in the legislative deadlock over Gov. John S. Fine's request for additional taxation to complete his proposed $1,200,000,000 1951-53 budget.

A sharp exchange brightened the Senate session yesterday before adjournment for the week end.

The governor blamed the legislature for the possibility that appropriations would be slashed for as well as for local projects elsewhere if no new tax is enacted. The administration's House-approved flat income tax is stymied in the Senate by 12 rebellious Republican senators.

Majority Leader John M. Walker, leader of the insurgents, said he assumed "appropriations will be awarded as political plums, to reward lawmakers supporting Fine's program."

As the 139th session of the General Assembly moved toward becoming one of the longest in history there was little optimism for speedy final adjournment. The assembly convenes again Monday.

Delaware State Police Shoot Down Fleeing Youth

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., June 22.—(INS)—Delaware state police fatally shot one youth and injured another today as they sought to flee from a stolen car in Marcus Hook.

The fatality was identified by police as Charles Willoughby, 22, Philadelphia. A companion, Norman Bailey, 18, is in Chester hospital with arm and stomach wounds.

Two other youths, identified by police as William Hoy, 17, and Joseph Bailey, 17, both of Philadelphia, are under arrest in Marcus Hook.

New Conference On Bus Strike This Afternoon

Effort To Be Made To Bring Bus Tieup In City To End

There will be a conference this afternoon in The Castleton hotel between mediators, representatives of the S. V. Transportation company, and officials and grievance committee of the Bus Operators union.

The purpose is to try and end the operators strike which started June 4.

The conference will include the following: Mr. Fitzgerald, a member of the International Board of the Association of Motor Coach employees, Boston; Charles Ward, federal mediator, Pittsburgh; Associate Counsel for the company, Marshall Matheny, this city, and John Ray, Beaver Falls; Roland J. Fisher, president of the union's local and grievance committee.

It is hoped at the meeting to have the strikers agree to return to their jobs. If they do, the company will grant an immediate increase of six cents an hour in wages, and arbitrate on the balance of the asked for 10 percent, it is said.

If the men do return, the company will ask Lawrence County Court that the hearing on a bill of equity filed yesterday, and scheduled to be heard Saturday, be postponed until Monday afternoon, it is reported.

Divert Traffic On By-Pass 422

Bridge Ramp Is Being Constructed Across By-Pass

Traffic normally using route 422 bypass between South Jefferson and South Mill streets is being detoured temporarily, it is announced by state and city authorities who are working together on the diverting of the traffic.

Since no major hardship is being created by the temporary detour, traffic is being forced to use Division street between South Jefferson and South Mill streets, with city police directing the traffic over the area.

Building Permit Issued For New Castle Hospital

New Castle hospital was issued a permit today by Edward Long-acre, clerk of the city's building bureau, for the construction of a new addition to the hospital which, according to the permit, will represent an expenditure of $700,000. According to reports in city hall, construction will begin in July.

Plane Missing In South Africa With 40 Aboard

Plane Vanishes On Flight To Liberia; Search Under Way

(BULLETIN)

New York, June 22.—(INS)—A Pan-American World Airways spokesman said today that the Constellation clipper "Great Republic" is missing on an African flight with 40 persons aboard.

The plane, which took off from Johannesburg, South Africa for Idlewild Airport, New York, vanished on a 655-mile leg of the flight between Accra, on the Gold Coast, and Robert Field, Monrovia, Liberia.

Headed for New York

It was headed for New York via Dakar, Lisbon, Santa Maria and Boston.

Last radio contact from the huge four-engine passenger plane was at 11:15 o'clock last night. It had not sighted Roberts Field at that time.

Pan-American in New York reported that the plane carried 31 passengers and nine crew members, headed by Capt. Frank J. Crawford, of Huntington Station, L. I., N. Y.

A DC-3 plane stationed at Roberts Field took off in search of the missing plane, but reported nothing was sighted from the air.

The Constellation took off at 7:45 P. M. (EDT) Thursday from Accra and was due at Roberts Field at 10:45 p. m.

Its final routine radio report, at 11:15 said the plane had not been in contact with the Liberian Airport. It then was already half an hour behind schedule.

Pan-American said that key personnel took off from Lisbon at 8 a. m. today headed for Roberts Field to conduct the hunt for the plane.

More Troops To Be Asked Of U. N. Members

By PIERRE J. HUSS (U. N. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y.,—A U. N. memorandum calling on some forty governments for command troops to smash "massive Chinese Communist concentrations" in Korea may be drafted today in response to Gen. Matthew Ridgway's appeal for additional forces.

The supreme commander's communication to U. N. was delivered last night by unified command spokesman Ambassador Ernest A. Gross. It was forwarded to U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie in Scandinavia and given immediate study by top officials of the world organization.

Andrew W. Cordier, executive assistant to Lie, said meanwhile after his return from a Tokyo-Korea tour that Ridgway has insufficient forces on hand to end the war by force.

Cordier, right-hand man to Lie and native of Canton, Ohio, asserted he saw no signs in Korea of willingness on the part of the Chinese Communists to consider any kind of cease-fire. He added, however, that the reverses suffered by the Red armies "have brought the war home to the Chinese people."

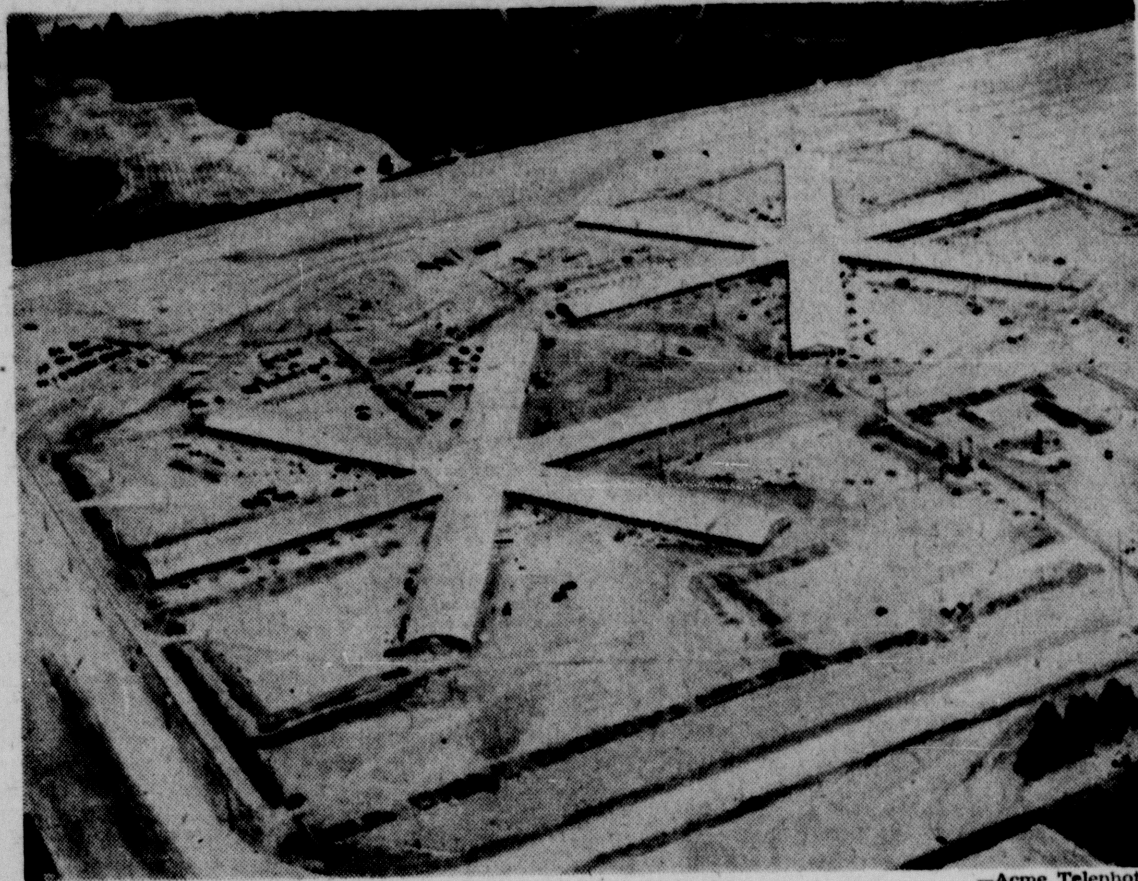

Ridgway based his appeal for additional troops on an anticipated new Chinese offensive on the eve of the first anniversary of the outbreak of the Korean war.

Girl Dies In School Pool

Donna Jean Palmer Tragedy Victim

Donna Jean Palmer, aged 12 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Palmer, of 706 Brinton avenue, was found dead in the Ben Franklin Junior High School pool, at 3:20 p. m., Thursday, at the close of the swimming period. Efforts to revive her failed, although two doctors and City Fire Department Rescue Squad members along with other first aiders worked over her for three quarters of an hour.

According to the investigation conducted by Coroner Charles E. Allen, Donna Jean was one of 114 girls who were using the pool under the program of the City Recreation Commission, which sponsors organized recreation during the summer months.

Companion Gives Alarm

Donna Jean's absence was not discovered until about ten minutes after the swimming period had ended, when Donna Jean's companion, who had gone to the pool with her, reported her missing. Miss Barbara Jackson, swimming supervisor, immediately searched

Contract To Be Let Soon

Expect Work To Start On N. Castle Hospital Addition In Short Time

Erection of the addition to the New Castle hospital is expected to start within a short time, following the issuance of a building permit by the city today.

Plans have been completed by the architects and the contract will be let within a week or two. Following the awarding of the contract construction will start shortly.

Iranian Government Seeks Death Penalty For Sabotage

By KINGSBURY SMITH (European General Manager, I. N. S.)

TEHRAN, June 22.—The Iranian government asked the death penalty today for any person convicted of attempts to hamper operation of the nationalized oil industry.

A measure was prepared for submission to parliament, apparently designed as a threat to employees of Britain's billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company which has been taken under Iranian government control.

To Provide Death Penalty Minister of Justice Ali Heyat is seeking to rush through parliament a drastic anti-sabotage bill containing a death penalty.

Included is a provision that anyone who damages Iranian efforts to exploit its petroleum industry

Maj. Gen. Barr Is Witness In Senate Probe

Gen. MacArthur Probe Hearings May End By Monday Night

By WILLIAM THEIS (U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Maj. Gen. David C. Barr, whose Far East service spanned the Communist victory in China and their intervention in Korea, was called today as a witness in the homestretch of the MacArthur investigation.

Chairman Russell D. Ga., announced that the Senate joint committee conducting the long inquiry should end its hearings by Monday night.

Barr and Maj. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell, former Korean strategic bombing chief, are to be the final witnesses.

Republican Senators in particular want to question Barr about his oft-cited report as China mission chief that the Nationalist Chinese forces never lost a battle for lack of American ammunition or equipment.

Gave Reds Victory Against this they cited testimony of Vice Adm. Oscar C. Badger, former Far East naval commander, (Continued on Page Two)

No Agreement In Maritime Strike On East Coast

NEW YORK, June 22.—(INS)—Negotiations for the CIO National Maritime Union and shipping owners ended a marathon bargaining session early today without progress toward ending a week-long shipping strike on three American coasts.

A spokesman for the shipping owners said, "They are no nearer agreement now than they ever were."

No time was set for resumption of negotiations and the adjournment was made subject to call by federal mediators who have been working without cease to end the tieup on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts.

Ninety Planes Reported In New Jet Battle

Reds May Plan For Big Attack On War's First Anniversary

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN (Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, June 22.—American pilots downed or damaged five Red fighters today in two jet battles involving some 90 planes after Allied troops in a North Korean sector were heavily hit by two unidentified aircraft.

Renewal of the mounting air war followed a pre-dawn bombing of Seoul Friday by a lone enemy plane which eluded Allied interception. Plans were rushed to remove residents from South Korean cities if necessary.

Fifth Air Force Headquarters revealed Friday that two "unidentified" single-engine planes loaded napalm (jellied gasoline), rockets and strafing machine gun fire on United Nations positions near Chorwon early Thursday.

Most Serious Air Attack Officials said that if the planes were Communist craft, this was the most serious enemy air attack yet made against UN ground forces since the Korean War began nearly a year ago. Red planes never before had used the deadly napalm against Allied troops or other targets.

The two unidentified planes dived over the UN positions near Chorwon in the west-central sector for three hours in Thursday's pre-dawn darkness, pressing the attack with full loads of explosives and ammunition.

Meanwhile, the South Korean government framed plans for possible civilian evacuation of cities under a special emergency proclamation if the enemy's current "nuisance" raids prove to be the forerunner of large-scale bombings.

This was disclosed in a dispatch (Continued on Page Two)

Wool Pool Is Brought To End

Over 70,000 Pounds In This Year's Pool

Pooling of the 1951 wool crop was concluded by the Lawrence County Wool Growers association, a total of 70,500 pounds of wool being delivered here and in Butler to be shipped to the buyer, James Akroyd and Co. of Philadelphia.

Butler county wool growers delivered 25,000 pounds in Butler on Tuesday, while growers from Lawrence and Beaver counties delivered 45,500 pounds here on Wednesday and Thursday.

This is approximately 3,500 pounds more than was pooled in 1950, but is not the largest amount ever pooled, as fewer farmers are raising wool in recent years, it is stated.

The top price for this year's crop is $1.05 per pound for the finest grades.

Plea Of Guilty Is Entered By Archbishop

Same Pattern Is Evident In Latest Trial In Hungary

BUDAPEST, June 22.—(INS)—Archbishop Josef Groz, leading Roman Catholic cleric in Hungary, pleaded guilty today at the opening of his trial on charges of seeking the overthrow of the Communist government.

(Editor's Note: The plea by the Archbishop following his earlier reported confession was in the same pattern evident in previous trials of anti-Communists where it was later charged admissions of guilt were obtained by use of drugs or torture. A charge of torture was made recently by Robert Vogeler, American executive, after he was freed from prison by the Hungarian government.)

Archbishop Groz is on trial with eight others accused of anti-state activities and espionage. He became the principal Catholic clergyman in Hungary after the imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

Both the judge and the prosecutor now taking part in the current trial played exact roles in the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty.

Dr. Eisenhower To Be Speaker

To Make Address At Westminster In Fall Ceremony

Westminster college will open its centennial year celebration with a fall convocation October 12, featuring an address by Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State college.

The convocation will be the first of several official functions to take place on the campus during the coming school year in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the college.

Other ceremonies to be held during the year include the dedication of two new buildings now under construction, a $500,000 men's dormitory and a $250,000 field house. A special centennial program will be held in the spring of 1952.

Witness Says She Met Man In New Castle

TUNKHANNOCK, Pa., June 22.—(INS)—A Milwaukee woman testified today that she was a "lonely hearts" correspondent of Charles Homeyer and started on a trip to the west coast with him shortly after the state alleged Homeyer killed his wife, Anna.

The witness, Mrs. Nancy Parker Myers, 47, was still on the stand at Homeyer's trial when court recessed for luncheon.

Mrs. Myers said she met Homeyer through a lonely hearts publication named "Cupid's Destiny" in August 1949 when she inserted an advertisement in the magazine. She related that she had described herself as a widow, although she was actually a divorcee, who loved to sing and wanted a man of her age who loved home life.

Mrs. Myers said Homeyer corresponded with her from Factoryville, telling her he also was a widower who would like to meet her with marriage in view.

Meet In New Castle

Mrs. Myers said there was a lapse of several months in their correspondence after she asked Homeyer to produce his wife's "death certificate."

Finally, she stated, Homeyer wrote again, saying he was piqued at her insistence on seeing the certificate but asking her to meet him in New Castle, Pa.

The witness testified she had then moved from Chicago to Youngstown, O., and agreed to meet Homeyer at a New Castle bus station on March 31, 1950.

The commonwealth charges that this meeting between Mrs. Myers and Homeyer took place within one to three days after Homeyer allegedly killed his wife and dismembered her body at Factoryville.

Mrs. Myers said she and Homeyer left the bus at Youngstown, where she was to pick up some luggage. At this point the trial was recessed until later this afternoon.

Gasoline service stations in Pennsylvania have an annual sales volume of 360 million dollars, according to the Census bureau.

DIVERT TRAFFIC ON BY-PASS 422

approach is nearing completion and work on the Mill street side of the bridge has been started. Due to the height of the bridge, some buildup work is necessary in order to make a safe and proper approach to the new structure.

Trucks and cars traveling thru the Diamond from the west to make use of the bypass are being shunted over Division street and thence north on mill street where they can rejoin Grove street to reach the bypass taking them east. Traffic traveling west is being sent over the same route.

Normally, the state does not permit traffic from a state route to be shifted over city streets. No detour signs have been erected along the temporary route as only city streets and not those maintained by the state are involved in the traffic rerouting process.

MAJ. GEN. BARR WITNESS IN PROBE

that delivery of useless and incomplete arms to a key North China army was "the straw that broke the camel's back" and gave the Reds final victory over Chiang Kai-shek.

Barr also was 7th Division commander in Korea.

Last-minute injection of a new document into the hearing challenging the administration thesis that it was vital to bring Russia into the Pacific war raised a slight possibility of extending the inquiry.

But Russell said that Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., who offered the 1945 army intelligence report, had not asked that further witnesses be called to substantiate it.

The report was drafted in army G-2 and stressed that America and Britain had the Japs defeated in April, 1945 and that to let Russia come in would destroy China and be an "act of treachery" to be regretted for decades.

It recommended that Gen. MacArthur be called home immediately for a face to face meeting with the president in Washington, with all other persons excluded.

Sen. Knowland (R) Cal., who has been helping to review classified documents in the hearings, said he did not think the intelligence report would require further testimony and extend the investigation.

Missing Nurse Appears After 14 Days Absence

GATLINBURG, TENN., June 22.—(INS)—Smoky Mountain National Park Rangers said today they are "closing the case" of Evangeline Lorimer, 21-year-old Cincinnati nurse, who suddenly appeared from the steep thickets last night after 14 days among the missing.

Mystery continued to veil the girl's disappearance and her ability to survive the ordeal in apparently excellent health.

Miss Lorimer simply strolled down a rugged track from the jungle-like mountain fastness and was hailed by 18-year-old Max Oglet, the son of a park ranger. Chief Ranger G. E. Mernin reported the nurse "had only a hazy explanation of her experience. She said she got lost while on a hike June 8, and "never thought to retrace her steps," according to Mernin.

Miss Lorimer, who had been vacationing with her father at the Gatlinburg resort, was taken to Broadway hospital at nearby Sevierville, Tenn., where Dr. Ralph Shilling said she is suffering only from foot blisters, a touch of poison ivy and a few scratches.

The bespectacled brunette claimed that she had only a few berries to eat while she was wandering through the mountains.

NINETY PLANES IN NEW JET BATTLE

from Pusan, Provincial capital of the Republic of Korea.

May Attack on Anniversary
The dispatch quoted ROK officials as voicing the belief the Chinese and North Korea Reds may mark the war's first anniversary with "concerted ground, air and guerrilla attacks on United Nations forces."

The bloody Korean conflict will enter its second year on Monday.

Further indications of a possible Communist summer offensive cropped up as UN troops patrolled as much as nearly seven miles forward on the mountainous central front Thursday, but met stiff opposition in other areas.

ROK troops on the east coast were aided by four American warships which rained more than 400 shells of eight and six inch caliber in the port of Kosong, 45 miles north of Parallel 38. Kosong lies 15 miles up the coast from ROK-occupied Kansong.

Friday's 600-mile-per-hour jet battles were waged south of Sinuiju on the Yalu river across from China's Manchuria.

Involves 58 Fighters
The first duel, involving 58 fighters, broke out in the morning when 30 Russia-style MIG-15 jets attacked 16 American F-80 Shooting Star jets headed for Sinuiju, 30 miles to the north of the scene.

Flying top-cover, 28 American F-86 Sabrejets pounced upon the sleek Communist MIGs. In the whistling, blazing dogfight that ensued the Sabre pilots shot down two and damaged another two of the MIGs.

Shortly thereafter, 25 or more of the sleek, Manchurian-based MIGs tried again to intercept the Shooting Stars. They were jumped by six Sabres and the heavily outnumbered American pilots damaged another enemy jet, despite the odds of more than four to one against them.

Up until a late hour Friday there was no report of damage to any of the 34 Sabrejets that took part in the two battles.

The 16 Shooting Stars meanwhile raced on to Sinuiju where they landed and raked the valuable airfield from treetop-skimming levels in the fast fire. Communist anti-aircraft fire, runways, hangars and buildings were smashed or shot up in the first attack on the large Sinuiju airfield since it was hit last May 9th with a 200-plane saturation bombing.

All the Shooting Star jet raiders got back to their bases.

HOUSE TO VOTE ON NEW TAX BILL

probably be less palatable to most house members than the present provisions.

It is partly because of this that Democratic leaders believe the GOP recommitment motion will be defeated.

There are no fears about actual passage if the Republican move fails. Most Democrats and a large bloc of Republicans are expected to vote for the bill if it comes up for final passage.

President Truman asked for 10 billion dollars in new revenue, a goal which the committee did not meet. The major provisions in the bill call for a rise of $2,647,000,000 in individual income taxes, and $1,253,000,000 in excise (consumer) taxes.

New taxes voted by congress will probably not become effective until next fall.

GIRL DIES IN SCHOOL POOL

the pool and found her, lying unconscious in about 8 feet of water. Miss Jackson brought her to the surface and started artificial respiration, while help was summoned.

The attendance at the pool has been unusually large, it is stated, because of the fact that the Cascade Park pool is not yet open, and swimming facilities which have existed in other locations are less this year.

There had been 59 boys using the pool Thursday morning, and with the 114 girls in the afternoon, the water became greatly discolored, making it difficult to see the bottom. Miss Jackson stated that she had checked the pool, and failed to see her body when she left, because of this fact.

Born In New Castle
The body was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where an autopsy was performed, to determine whether the child had drowned, or whether she might have suffered a heart attack. The results of this post mortem examination have not as yet been completed.

Donna Jean was born in New Castle, September 20, 1938 and attended Thaddeus Stevens school, where she had entered Ben Franklin Junior high in the fall, as a seventh grade student, it is stated. She was a member of the Epworth Methodist church.

She was the daughter of Arthur J. and Florence Clark Palmer, who survive, together with the following brothers and sisters: Arthur, Jr., Richard, Ralph, and Norma Jane, all at home, and Mrs. Geraldine Lutz, of Ellwood City.

The body was removed to the DeCarbo funeral home, where friends will be received this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock, and Saturday from 2 to 5, and 7 to 9 p.m.

Funeral services will take place from the DeCarbo funeral home, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the First Congregational church.

Burial will take place in Oak Park cemetery.

or stops the oil operations will be tried by a military court and be liable to a sentence of death. Western observers foresaw the possibility that the law, if enacted, might be applied in the event that officials of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian company attempt to close their Abadan refinery or deny use of tankers to transport the oil.

It was seen possible also that the law might be invoked against anyone who even advised British technicians to quit their jobs in Iran.

Special Security Council
The government also created a special security council to maintain law and order in the oil-rich country.

Britain's ambassador to Iran said meanwhile that he saw no hope for any resumption of negotiations on the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute while the government of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh retains power.

Sir Francis Shepherd, the London envoy, summed up the British attitude with this statement as negotiators of the British-owned firm boarded a plane for England.

Loss Of $500,000 In Fire At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, June 22.—(INS)—Cleveland firemen today extinguished a five-alarm blaze which caused an estimated $500,000 damage to the Reeves plant of the Cleveland Builders Supply Company.

The fire broke out last night near kiln No. 3 and then spread to the roof and along the three-story building. A fireman and watchman tried to put out the small fire with a factory hose but low water pressure forced them to give up.

J. C. Ehle, production manager of the plant, estimated the loss to be at least $500,000. He said some 800,000 bricks being processed in the factory would probably be destroyed.

The blaze consumed much of the roof of the plant. The factory is one of the largest in the nation with an annual output of 30 million building bricks.

Uniformed German Troops In Parade

LUEBECK, Germany, June 22.—(INS)—Armed and uniformed German troops paraded for the first time since World War II today in Luebeck.

Western Federal Minister of the Interior Robert Lehr witnessed a "march-past" of 1,600, the first unit of 10,000 men being organized for border police.

The troops wore Alpine-type green uniforms consisting of ski-pants and short jackets. They carried regulation German army carbines and machineguns and wore German army steel helmets.

The parade was staged in a former German WAC barracks only 500 yards from the Soviet border.

More than 50 million dollars are spent annually in Pennsylvania for funeral services, according to the Census bureau.

LOCAL COUPLE HAS 46th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carrigan of 717 Blaine street observed their 46th wedding anniversary Thursday, June 21, quietly at their residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrigan were united in marriage in New Castle June 21, 1905, with the late Rev. Fr. J. F. Gallagher of St. Mary's church officiating.

Mrs. Carrigan, the former Margaret Sullivan, was born and raised in this city, being the daughter of John and Mary Thompson Sullivan. Mr. Carrigan was born in Lowellville, O., son of Joseph and Eva Wimer Carrigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrigan are the parents of five living children: James of Baltimore, Md.; Edward of Follansbee, W. Va.; Paul of this city; Robert of R. D. 3, and Mrs. Thomas Czar of R. D. 3, Beaver Falls. They also have 12 grandchildren.

Mr. Carrigan came to New Castle in 1902 and worked at the Greer Mill tin house. He was also superintendent of his work in the following cities: Martins Ferry, O.; Wheeling, W. Va.; Warren, O.; Baltimore, Md.; and Follansbee, W. Va. He completed 44 years of work in 1944 and is now retired.

Both are enjoying good health. However, Mr. Carrigan was injured this week while working on his car and suffered a severe cut on his left arm that required many stitches to close.

Mrs. Carrigan's only sister, Millicent, died in 1925.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrigan received many lovely cards from members of the immediate family in remembrance of the day.

VAN-BEAVON VOWS AT FIRST CHRISTIAN

Open church will be observed this evening at 7:30 o'clock when Miss Marjorie Van is united in marriage to Alfred N. Beavon at a ceremony in the First Christian church with Dr. G. S. Bennett officiating.

Miss Van is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Van, 415 Fairmont avenue, while the prospective groom is a son of Mrs. Alfred Beavon, 502 Moody avenue, and the late Mr. Beavon.

A rehearsal took place Thursday evening in the First Christian church.

McINTYRE-MALONEY VOWS DISCLOSED

Miss Sally E. McIntyre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James I. McIntyre, 712 Blaine street, was married to James A. Maloney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Maloney of 504 Ninth street, Ellwood City, on June 14 at 9 a. m. in St. Mary's church.

Rev. Fr. Francis McCarter officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon over net and tulle, fashioned with a sheer net yoke with large collar and long sleeves. Lace trimming featured the collar and full skirt. The bride's fingertip veil was scalloped and held to a lace cap trimmed with pearls. She carried a white orchid on a prayer book.

Green rayon marquisette over satin was worn by the maid of honor, Miss Mary Ann McIntyre, sister of the bride. The gown was trimmed with lace and had a sheer yoke. She wore matching mitts and a cap with floral trim, and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations with an orchid center.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Afterwards, Mr. and Mrs. Maloney took a wedding trip to Pittsburgh.

The bride attended the New Castle high school and has been employed by the J. C. Penney company. Her husband, a graduate of the Ellwood City high school, is with the U. S. Air Force, stationed at Buckley Air Force base, Denver, Colo. Mrs. Maloney will join him there in about a month.

OLIVE I. MILLER SHOWER HONOREE

Miss Catherine Kelly, Pulaski road, entertained co-workers of the Bell Telephone company and mutual friends at a lovely miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Olive I. Miller, bride-elect of Saturday, on Thursday evening at her home.

Cards and television were informal diversions and a dainty lunch was served, buffet style at a table decorated with fresh roses and white candles. The hostess was assisted in serving by Miss Mary Kelley, Mrs. Charles Twaddle and Mrs. Walter Hannon.

The bride-to-be was the recipient of many attractive and useful gifts.

Miss Miller, daughter of Mrs. Verda H. Miller of 707 Wilmington avenue, will be married to Lawrence J. Boyle, son of Mrs. Mae Boyle of Long Island, N. Y., Saturday at 2:30 o'clock at an open ceremony in the Trinity Episcopal church.

DeRICO-PASCOE WEDDING NEWS

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Christina Marie DeRico, daughter of Joseph DeRico, 1209 Clearview avenue, this city, to Lawrence J. Pascoe, son of Frank Pascoe, of Park Gate, Ellwood City.

The single ring ceremony was solemnized in the Park Gate Baptist church, Ellwood City, on June 16 at 11 a. m., Rev. Kroll officiating.

The bride wore a gown of marquisette and French lace over tulle, fashioned with a portrait neckline edged with a lace ruffle, basque waistline, peplum-style, and a bouffant skirt ending in a court train. A veil of French tulle edged with lace was caught to a tiara of pearls and rhinestones. She carried calla lilies centered with an orchid. The something old, new, borrowed and blue and sixpence custom was observed.

Miss Nancy Pascoe, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Barbara Pascoe, sister of the groom, and Mary Ann Quinn. The maid of honor was dressed in aqua marquisette and lace over tulle, with a sweetheart neckline and carried tinted carnations with an orchid. Bridesmaids' gowns were of the same pattern, one of pink and one of yellow. They, too, wore sweetheart headresses and carried tinted carnations to match their gowns, tied with streamers of baby tulle.

Junior bridesmaids were Arlene Heasley, niece of the bride, and Lucille DeRico, sister of the bride, wearing orchid gowns with matching headresses, and carrying bouquets like those of the bridesmaids.

Corporal Patsy DeRico, brother of the bride, from Camp Atterbury, Ind., served as best man, and the ushers were Robert Agnew and Theodore Pagliarone.

Dinner was served at an Ellwood restaurant for 40 guests, and an evening reception for about 200 guests was held at the Casa Savoia hall, New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Pascoe left for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. They will live in Ellwood City with the groom's parents upon their return.

The bride attended the New Castle schools and was formerly employed at Joseph's Market. The groom attended the Ellwood City schools and is employed at Cavert's Wire Mill, Ellwood City.

HAPPY GROUP CLUB HAS DINNER EVENT

Mrs. Henry DiGiacomo, of East Long avenue, was hostess Thursday evening when the Happy Group club gathered in her home for their dinner-meeting.

At 7 o'clock the group enjoyed a spaghetti dinner. Aiding at the table was her daughter, Jean. Card playing was later enjoyed with Mrs. Joseph Bordonaro Jr. and Mrs. Louis Cardullo receiving the prize. The club token was won by Mrs. Sam Tomassello.

Refreshments were served at a late hour.

July 5 is the meeting with Mrs. Louis Cardullo, Winslow avenue.

POLKA DOT CLUB PLANS JULY PICNIC

A family picnic to be held on July 11 at Buhl Park, Sharon, was planned by members of the Polka Dot club when they met at the home of Mrs. Edward Kendra, Hazen street.

Television and canasta were enjoyed with Mrs. John Zduenick receiving high score prize and Mrs. Stanley Miksa consolation award. Mrs. John Nakonezny won the club token. Mrs. Andrew Ross shared as a special guest and was presented with a lovely gift from the hostess.

Carole Kendra, daughter of the hostess, pleased the group with their favorite piano selections. Flash pictures were taken during the evening.

The hostess received a gift from the club members. Climaxing the meeting, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Gajda and Mrs. Andrew Ross.

Mrs. Thad Bukowski of Maitland Lane will be hostess for the next regular meeting on Thursday, July 5.

W. C. Club Meeting

Members of the W. C. club met in the home of Mrs. Phillip Clark, 24 Round street, for their regular meeting.

During the business meeting, plans were completed for the family picnic at Cascade Park in the near future.

Games of five hundred were played with high score awards won by Mrs. T. Burgess. Mrs. Harold Clark and Mrs. Charles Clark.

Mrs. Harold Clark received a gift from her secret sister in honor of her birthday. Mrs. Charles Clark assisted the hostess in serving a delicious lunch.

Next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Flynn, Homestead street, on July 13.

QUEEN ESTHERS PLAN FOR PICNIC DINNER

Queen Esther class of the Third U. P. church will hold its July meeting in the form of a picnic dinner at the home of Mrs. William Mooney, Walmo, Tuesday, July 17, with the social committee in charge.

Arrangements for the picnic were discussed at the June class meeting held at the home of Miss Dorothy Kay, 2011 Delaware avenue, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Bernard Hook was in charge of the devotionals. The class president, Mrs. J. J. Kenahan, presided.

Birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Lloyd Wimer, Mrs. Tom Baskyfield and Miss Leona Nolan were celebrated.

Mrs. Ralph Scarpant, Mrs. E. J. Flansburg and Mrs. Tom Baskyfield were in charge of the program for the evening. Chairman, Mrs. Scarpant, introduced the speaker, Thos. J. Cunningham, who gave interesting instructions on floral arrangements.

Miss Kay invited the members to the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served, buffet style, by her sister, Mrs. John Dagnon, who was assisted in serving by her daughters, Kay and Donna Jean Dagnon.

Hanna Reunion

Members of the Hanna families met in the picnic grove at the home of Mrs. Isabella Hanna, Hart street, for a family reunion. Forty members of the families were present at the basket picnic.

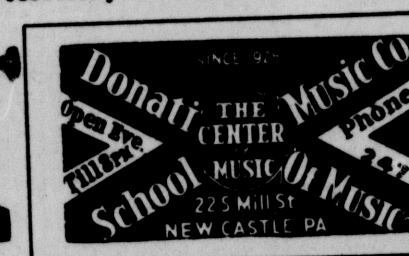

Four generations of the Coyne family, of Hollywood, Fla., were represented.

Mrs. Hanna was assisted by her sisters, Mrs. Nellie Springer, Mrs. J. P. McCullough and Mrs. Cecilia McCullough. Horseback riding, baseball, dancing and television were the entertainment of the evening.

AMERICAN ARSENAL

In entering the North Atlantic Pact, American thinking originally was that European arsenals would be built up with American aid. Europe would pour out weapons for the common cause of defense against communism.

Now American direction is changing. Up against the hard fact of European inefficiency and reluctance, the administration proposes to manufacture the weapons in the United States and deliver them to Europe free.

One spokesman voices the composite argument when he asks, "Why should we use up men, money and materials to turn out a couple of tanks in France when with the same resources we can turn them out by the thousands in America?" Another argument is that if this country builds up arsenals in Europe and Russia marches to the sea, the effort and expenditure will have been worse than useless.

Europe's obligation under the North Atlantic Pact may be graded down to provision of military manpower, light arms and the maintenance of services such as airfields and barracks. It is hoped Europe can do that much, though it has made no impressive display of progress so far.

Against this country's $50,000,000,000 for rearmament Britain's defense spending is $3,600,000,000 per year and that of France $2,400,000,000. General Eisenhower is reported to be impressed by Europe's lack of willingness to defend itself.

But if the current plan to make the United States the arsenal of the free world goes through, and if Europe's defenses lag under an American giveaway program, it will be clear beyond doubt that Europe's heart isn't in the cause of saving freedom.

THE ISLE OF PEACE

The U.S. is still at war with Japan, in a sense. No peace treaty has been signed. Japan is still occupied by American armed forces, and exercises only such national sovereignty as the occupation authorities authorize. Only the shooting phase of the Japanese-American war is over.

There are Japanese, here and there in the island-dotted vastness of Pacific waters, who haven't even found out about that. One such group of 33 men has been spotted on one of the smaller islands of the Marianas. Seven years ago the 33 Japanese went ashore from cargo ships destroyed by American planes. Informed the war was over by letters left on shore from relatives in Japan, some of the men refused to believe it and threatened to kill anyone who tried to leave.

One who got away to go back and see for himself is half prepared, no doubt, for proof that Japan lost the war. He will return to a Japan from which planes and troops and supplies are constantly leaving for the new war in Korea. He will learn that a third world war seems to be shaping up between two factions of the alliance that beat Japan and her allies.

How will he react then? Will he thank his once sacred emperor that Nippon has been spared the curse of victory? Or will he quietly slip back to the haven where, for seven monotonous years, he enjoyed a rare and precious peace?

NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY

Determined patriots opposed to "one-world government" have organized in California to wage an intensive fight for the protection of American national sovereignty. They will resist every proposal which involves any surrender of national decisions to the United Nations.

The group is incorporated, not for profit, as the California State Conference for the Preservation of National Sovereignty. Its principal activities, warning of the danger of any action to amend the federal Constitution to permit United States entry into a world government.

"This conference is unalterably opposed," says that founding resolution, "to our nation entering into any and every form of agreement for a world organization, which entails the subordination of the sovereign rights of any American citizen to the will of an alien power."

The conference has offices in both Los Angeles and San Francisco. The president is H. Lewis Mathewson, who is also California president of the Sons of the American Revolution and deputy governor for California of the Society of Mayflower Descendants.

One of the vice presidents is Mrs. Bruce Canaga, first vice regent for California of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the other is Arthur Case, active in the S.A.R. and the Mayflower Descendants.

Sydney H. Foster, chairman of the executive committee, is president of the San Francisco chapter of the Sons of the Revolution, California president of the Association of American War Dads, and a member of the Founders and Patriots of America.

The American sovereignty issue has been particularly spotlighted in recent months. The California legislature has started action for a federal constitutional amendment specifically barring any treaty or executive agreement which imperils domestic sovereignty. The state supreme court is deliberating a lower court decision that the U.N. charter is "The supreme law of the land." The lower court held the California alien land statute, preventing Japanese and a few other Asiatic races from owning land in this state, was invalid because it conflicted with the U.N. human rights declaration.

A government that can control prices of things we have to buy, can also control the incomes we receive, and generally speaking does. The chief trouble is too much government.

British Ponder World Dangers

Delegates from the British commonwealth of nations are meeting in London to open a full-scale probe of the dangers confronting the world and determine to what extent the United Jack is prepared to defend itself everywhere.

The sessions will be largely secret and it is anticipated that there may be some bitter exchanges. Inevitably, the difficult and potentially dangerous situation in Iran is slated for the top of the agenda.

Keep Open 'Life Lines'
Except for Canada and the British islands in the West Indies, there is hardly a section of the commonwealth whose safety does not depend in one manner or another on keeping open the "life lines" in the Mediterranean and the Middle East.

And in the present state of world affairs, these can hardly be kept open by military means alone. If the Iranian crisis were to touch off a new world war, virtually every point of importance to the British in these areas either would be sealed up or would become flaming battlefields or bombed-out depots.

The bitter aspects of the empire conference are likely to arise in connection with commonwealth interests versus European ones—in other words, is the Labor government of Prime Minister Attlee subordinating English-speaking needs to continental commitments?

Take Opposing View
Curiously enough, France and other continental nations take a diametrically opposing view. They accuse the British—sometimes in quite uncomplimentary terms—of insularity and self-interest.

They point to British aloofness from the Schuman plan for pooling coal and iron resources and from the Council of Europe as proof of their contention.

They also cite the fact that Britain will not budge from her policy of imperial preferences, and the British have come in for some severe criticism from the United States as well as Europe for delay in shutting off shipment of war potentials to Communist China and maintenance of unbroken trade with Hong Kong.

There is no denying that Britain's position has been made serious if not precarious, by the situation in Iran.

British Forces Alert
British forces in the Middle East have been alerted and Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison has said time and again that the government will not stand idly by if British lives are endangered.

But the Conservatives, who being out of office need not take the responsibility for any such drastic move, maintain sharply that it is better to send troops to Iran immediately "rather than wait until someone has been murdered."

That single alternative is symbolic of the British dilemma. There is always the spectre of a mutual defense treaty signed between Iran and Soviet Russia in 1921. Moscow has not threatened openly to invoke it if Britain sends troops to Persia.

But the wording is clear. One clause reads: "If a third party should attempt... usurpation by armed intervention in Persia... and if the Iranian government should not be able to put a stop to such menace after being requested to do so by Russia, Russia shall have the right to advance her troops into the Iranian interior."

To Protect Soviet
Ostensibly this clause is designed to protect Soviet sovereignty. The Russians are estimated to have perhaps a half a million men carrying out maneuvers along the frontier of Iran's Azerbaijan province bordering on Russia.

It seems difficult to understand how Russia, under the circumstances, could interpret a single brigade of parachute troops on the island of Cyprus and half a dozen warships in the Persian gulf as any real threat to Soviet security.

But on the other hand, no one would be surprised if the Kremlin should regard them in such a light. This is it obvious why Iran will have a major place in the commonwealth discussion in London that are so vital to major areas of the world.

VACATIONS

Life holds so many ways for men To turn their backs on fretful cares.

For much can be forgotten when A few brief hours to rest are theirs.

Some fear and doubt can shuffle off By cheering for a baseball nine.

Some do it with a round of golf. Some with a rod and reel and line.

For one and all delights abound Which each as pleasure good regards.

At peace some walk their gardens round. Some restful think a game of cards.

The young prefer a tennis set—A joy that can be mine no more.

All fishermen their cares forget The moment that they leave the shore.

God made the world a wonder place. And wonderfully fashioned man.

That whoever he must face Dismiss it, now and then, he can.

He gave us endless joys to share, With streams to fish and hills to climb.

And charm and beauty everywhere To comfort us from time to time.

During the first World War he served in Egypt, Aden, Mesopotamia and Kurdistan. He was appointed deputy chief of staff in India in 1936. In 1940, World War II, he was commander of the Southern Command in England. He was appointed commander in chief in India in 1941, and succeeded Sir Archibald Wavell in command of the Middle Eastern forces operating in northern Africa. He was made a general in 1940. In 1946 he became field marshal.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

We were going to say... in the dead of night... but that is a thing of the past... Night and day can only be distinguished by the fact that a dim light burns on the TV set at night. But that isn't what we started to tell... in the middle of the night (according to the clock) when all should be quiet... children to bed and you are snuggled down all comfy and warm watching a twenty-year old movie... it is startling to hear the scream of the siren... calling out the volunteer firemen of the surrounding townships.

But you help me and I'll help you is the attitude that keeps the spark of the volunteer departments going (and we don't mean the fire). Men and women who have chosen to live beyond the protection of tax money... depend on their own ability to keep the scorching fingers of fire from taking all their possessions.

When the township siren sounds... you who live within the city... can rest assured that the phones in that area are also ringing. Very effective systems of calling the volunteers have been worked out. Pop gets up and dresses... Mom mans the phone... and through a system of calling one to five houses... a full crew is soon on hand.

One big difficulty comes from the scare that the alarm caller suffers... fright... and in the excitement of fright comes the lack, often, of sufficient information as to the exact location of the house, barn or what have you... This, of course, is not exclusive to volunteer township fire-fighters... it happens right in the heart of every metropolitan area.

From now until September... if you want a good dish of ice cream with strawberries or later raspberries... you can count on getting same at one or more volunteer fire houses in the county. One way they meet the expense of buying modern equipment and keeping their fire houses in repair. We in the city help these organizations because they are such damn fine people and have such enjoyable social functions.

Do-Or-Die Convention?

WASHINGTON, June 22.—In a little more than a year Chicago will be the milling, mulling center of a great political convention. The Republicans will be meeting to select their candidates for President and Vice President.

Since they will have been out of power for 20 years, it will inevitably be a do-or-die convention. As was pointed out at the time of the late Senator Arthur Vandenberg's death, he was the last Republican senator to serve in the Senate while a Republican administration was in the White House.

In other words, except for a few members of the House, all the Republicans now in Congress have made their careers solely as oppositionists. If we are to have a vital and functioning two-party system the time is overdue when the opposition party should present the voters with a workable and appealing alternative to the administration so long in power.

But anyone who looks candidly at the divisions within the GOP—and this includes some of the less passionately partisan Republicans in Senate and House—must doubt whether this is possible in 1952. On Pretty Safe Ground.

When Senator Owen Brewster of Maine predicts that his great and good friend, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, will be the Republican nominee he is on pretty safe ground. One must add quickly that he is on safe ground so far as the situation of the present moment is concerned. The Taft organization within the party is thorough, pervasive and powerful. The feeling prevails among faithful Republicans that "Bob deserves his chance."

But Taft as candidate is something else again. He is likely to suffer from a handicap unlike that of Governor Thomas E. Dewey in 1943 but equally serious.

Dewey was primarily the choice of eastern Republicans with an international point of view. When he campaigned in the eastern states he found candidates for state and congressional offices who were congenial to him because they thought as he did. But in the Midwest Dewey was, in effect, running against his own party with the local candidates almost antithetical to what he stood for.

Would Have Support
As the champion of MacArthur and the leader of the opposition to the troops-to-Europe issue, candidate Taft would have the fervent support of Republicans in the middle west states. But in the East many in his own party would be lukewarm at best.

As one of his Republican colleagues in the Senate put it: "They say that Dewey was guilty of me, too-ism. You can turn that around and charge Taft with too much me-reference to Taft's habit to head and you are right."

This was a reference to Taft's habit on recent months of speaking up on every subject with special emphasis on foreign policy. To some Republicans he has seemed bent on carving out the party's position in every slightest aspect of policy. While Taft's assertiveness has prevented other Republican views from becoming

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

Prospects for peace are splendid... The addition to the UN building will feature concrete instead of steel "to conserve war materials."

That ought to show you we are moving in the right direction... or at least in a direction.

My barber says he is happy to see that we are now shipping arms to Communist Yugoslavia. It should strengthen us in our fight against Communism everywhere.

We are supplying Tito so that he can remain independent of Moscow... He already has announced that he will remain independent of Washington.

That gives us two sterling leaders of independence... One by birth and one by adoption.

Some say that Tito is actuated by motives of self-interest, but we all know the firm position our administration has taken against special interests so this must be an error.

We must learn to realize that the whole world is interested in us and moves only in our interest.

They Say

NEW YORK—Capt. James Jabara, America's first jet air ace—"Above 30,000 feet the MIG can outrun and out-climb us. That's vital because we usually start our dogfights at 30,000 to 35,000 feet and we can't shoot down a plane if we can't catch it."

WASHINGTON—Former ambassador to China Patrick H. Hurley—"A weak and confused foreign policy after Yalta, and in general after World War Two, is the cause for every international problem confronting our nation and for every casualty we have suffered in Korea."

McCarthyism; 1951

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—Senator McCarthy's 60 thousand-word Philippic against Defense Secretary Marshall, although it was ill-mannered and inconclusive, is proof enough that:

1. McCarthyism is not dead, and McCarthy himself is still matinee idol of the Senate galleries.

2. As candidate for reelection in 1952, McCarthy is betting on this aggressive and abusive method of campaign against the Truman Administration; and a good many GOP candidates are going to fight it out on the same line.

3. Neither Marshall nor any present-day hero is sacrosanct in our time, and more's the pity.

Not On Hot Air Alone
McCarthyism does not exist on hot air alone; it exists on the patent fact that strange things have been happening to our country since 1945. We were then all-powerful as a military force, and we bestrode the political world like a Colossus. It is all very well to blame our disarmament on Moms, Inc. ("Bring the boys home"), but this is the hen-pecked excuse of no-leadership. An Administration which undertakes global power-politics has no business complaining that its arm was twisted by the hand which rocks the cradle. Somehow we've parlayed $100 billion of armaments and foreign aid into shoestrings and faint-hearted allies. McCarthyism is the uncouth voice which cries out: "We got cheated."

A few days before McCarthy's speech last Thursday, there was talk in knowledgeable circles that he had been blackmailed into silence. The Administration was supposed to "have something on him" which explained his relative silence during the Russell committee hearings. But McCarthy bravely announced his speech long in advance, and that afternoon the galleries were jammed. Elevators stopped running to the third floor of the Senate wing. Everybody had to walk the remaining flight, reporters showing their cards to Capitol policemen and visitors being queued up for seats. There's no denying McCarthy's gate-appeal, but he draws an audience better than he holds one. The galleries, the floor and the press coop soon had enough. Both his delivery and the content of his speeches lack what it takes to keep people in their seats.

Will It Survive?
Will McCarthyism survive as a campaign method in '52? The Wisconsin Senator, a sharp operator, thinks so. He says: "What a Senator does the first five years doesn't count. It's only the last year that pays off for reelection." So if he's picking up where he left off last year, it's because he's planned it that way. And so has the GOP high command, as represented by Republican Senate leaders. A year ago McCarthy was left to "go it alone." Today he seldom acts without full approval of the party elders.

As for his charges against Gen. Marshall, they are neither new nor convincing. The Senator named 24 book-sources from which he claimed to draw material. Last Christmas a friend of McCarthy's explained his relative silence during the Russell committee hearings. But McCarthy bravely announced his speech long in advance, and that afternoon the galleries were jammed. Elevators stopped running to the third floor of the Senate wing. Everybody had to walk the remaining flight, reporters showing their cards to Capitol policemen and visitors being queued up for seats. There's no denying McCarthy's gate-appeal, but he draws an audience better than he holds one. The galleries, the floor and the press coop soon had enough. Both his delivery and the content of his speeches lack what it takes to keep people in their seats.

Requires Passive Consent
But the debunking of a hero requires a certain amount of passive consent by the bystanders. A lot of people came, even if they didn't stay on to witness the harassment of George Catlett Marshall, a name to conjure with a few short years ago. Southern Democrats, for what it's worth, participated by their presence on the floor. My notebook records as being there: Senators Byrd, McKellar, George, Hill, Hoyer, Stennis, Long and McClellan. McCarthy wasn't speaking within the vacuum of his own party.

What is the McCarthy charge against Marshall? Stripped of its lurid passages—"a conspiracy of infamy so black that, etc., etc."—the accusation breaks down to a citation of World War II mistakes and Cold War failures. McCarthy, as only he knows how to do, wove them into a giddy pattern of unbelievable guilt and betrayal.

Hardly anybody will be convinced by the Senator's performance, but the remarkable thing is that so few appear to have been outraged by it. Those mistakes are mostly discernible by hindsight, and those failures are the sort that are easier to bemoan than to foresee.

Even so, there has been little defense for the secretary and still less rebuke for the Senator. McCarthy's diatribe has fallen upon a land which has ceased to believe in heroes.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Of the many unusual communications I receive this is one of the most unusual. Just a newspaper clipping, apparently from one of the columns. With it a little slip of paper.

This is what the clipping says: "Man, proud man, Drest in a little brief authority, Most ignorant of what he's most assured, His glassy essence, like an angry ape, Plays such fantastic tricks before high heaven, As make the angels weep."

That's all for the clipping. The slip that came with it was typewritten.

The content: "Do you know WHO?"

The signature: "Disillusioned Democrat."

The whole thing intrigued me. Did I know whom the sender had in mind? I think I do.

The quotation seemed familiar, but I couldn't place it. I looked all through my Shakespeare to find in what play and in what connection he wrote it. I haven't found it yet—but I found others that seem to indicate that Shakespeare was not only a poet but a prophet as well.

Most certainly he was a philosopher, who knew human nature—that never changing, mysterious element.

May I make one thing clear: Any resemblance to a living person or persons in these quotations will depend strictly on your own interpretation.

If the shoe fits anyone whom or of whom you know—blame it on Shakespeare, not me.

Here is one from Romeo and Juliet: "Taffeta phrases, silken terms precise, Three-piled hyperboles, spruce affectation,

From Coriolanus: "There's a great spirit gone! Thus did I desire it. What our contempt do often hurl from us, We wish it ours again."

If Shakespeare wrote my column for me today, please excuse it. He was a better man than I am, Gung Din.

Central Christians Mark Anniversary

Central Christian church observed the 54th anniversary at one of the finest services conducted in the church, with a very large crowd on hand for the event Wednesday evening. The program opened with the singing of "The Church's One Foundation", followed by the invocation given by Rev. Rainey, the pastor.

Following the singing of "How Firm a Foundation", a short resume of the church history was given by the pastor. During the recognition service Thomas Phelps was proclaimed as the oldest male member and Mrs. R. J. Price as the oldest lady member present. Mrs. Thomas Phelps had the greatest number of years membership and A. W. Bauman holds the men's record for longest membership.

Miss Claudia Price was a member honored for the shortest period of membership. George Bauman, chairman of the board, presented each with a rose. Those present having been members for 50 years or more, in addition to the above, included: Mrs. William Houston, Mrs. Isaac Davis and Miss Helen Strobel.

Devotions were led by the minister, with Miss Alberta Scriven reading the Twenty-third Psalm, accompanied by Evelyn Bernine, secretary of the Pennsylvania Missionary society, gave a high tribute to Central church. He said it was because of Dr. Arthur Braden, a product of Central Christian, that he was led into the ministry. His message to the congregation was three-fold: we depend upon God, God depends upon us, and we depend upon each other.

Following the address the congregation bowed in prayer while the organist played "I Love Thy Kingdom Lord."

The group retired to the dining room, where the birthday party was held in honor of Central.

Special guests of the evening included former members, Mrs. Lawrence Sontag and Mr. and Mrs. Spear.

Donation Day At Zelienople Home Thursday, June 28

The 97th annual visiting and donation day will be held at the Children's Home and Farm School, Zelienople, on Thursday, June 28, with an all day affair. The home is sponsored by the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran church and more than 1600 children have been given homes there through the years.

There will be entertainment for all. At noon an old fashioned ham dinner will be served in the dining room by the Lutheran churches of the community, the ladies of the churches donating, preparing and serving the dinner. Dinner will again be served in the evening, both to be at a nominal cost.

At 2:30 in the afternoon there will be a program, with the speaker as the Rev. Edgar B. Hanks, Th. D., pastor of the Holy Trinity Lutheran church, Jeannette, Pa. There will be music by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mueller of this place. Mr. Mueller was a resident of the home. The high school band of Zelienople, under the direction of R. A. Lewis will play during the day.

The laundry in the home, newly furnished, was made possible by the donation day last year. The buildings will all be open for inspection, and the public is invited and urged to attend the annual donation day. The children at the home, about 65 at present, look forward to this day when their friends and relatives visit them.

S.S. Executives To Meet Tuesday

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Big Brother

The Lehman family and the Bruces, too, had the feeling that it was important for their boys to get along together.

Things had worked out well for the Lehmans. Fifteen-year-old Milton and 12-year-old Arnold enjoyed spending time together. But it was another story with the Bruces. Duncan did everything he could to avoid being with his younger brother Donald.

At least one of the reasons for the difference was the way things had been handled by the parents. The Bruces had insisted when the boys were young that Duncan take Donald along with him wherever he went. If it was playing ball with boys, Donald tagged along. When the gang went swimming, Duncan had to spend time keeping his eye on Don in the shallow part of the pool.

The Lehmans had a different approach. Recognizing that Milton and his friends wouldn't always find it too pleasant to have a younger three years younger tagging along, they arranged other things and other playmates for Arnold now and then. And they saw to it when the boys were together that they had a good time. A movie or a circus didn't bring out differences in the same way that playing ball did. With little or no talk, they built up a backlog of experiences in which both boys could enjoy themselves without getting into each other's hair.

Yes, we learn to enjoy or dislike the companionship of brothers and sisters through experience. Brotherly affection isn't inborn. Whether or not our youngsters get along depends a lot on how we handle situations.

ENVIRONMENT AFFECTS PERSONALITY GROWTH

Many opportunities for growing children are available in rural communities. Children can develop a wholesome outlook on life and an appreciation of the beauties and richness of their environment.

Rural communities are an excellent place to train for good citizenship and concern for the other fellow, essential for a well-rounded personality.

The family is the smallest of social groups, as well as the most intimate. In a family a child can learn cooperation, respect for the viewpoints of others, and to take responsibility. Working and playing with other children in the close relationship of the family helps to wear off the sharp corners in a personality. Ability to adjust, fit in, and contribute ideas makes for happy living. Where the environment is rich and varied, children have the chance to make choices. The child who has grown to adulthood without learning to make choices is unhappy and inadequate. To make a choice and then carry through with it should be learned and practiced during the growing-up period. Jobs a child does around the home and farm aid him in developing a healthy mature personality, one that will meet the needs of modern society.

FLAVOR FOR COOKED VEGETABLES

Step up the flavor of plain-cooked root vegetables with varied seasonings. Drop in a little chopped onion, green onion tops, green pepper, or chives.

RADIANT HEAT HAS NO EFFECT ON RUGS

Selecting a rug for your house today presents problems quite different from those of ten years ago. Materials and designs in rugs and types of heating in houses have changed in the last decade. Rayon, manufactured expressly for carpets, has proved durable and easy to clean. The colors are rich and clear. Carpets of cotton are inexpensive, delightful in color, and the smaller rugs may be laundered at home.

Designs in present day carpets are typically American. Plain weaves and homespun are adapted to our informal way of living. Ranch type motifs and Indian designs blend with casual decoration, and early American chintz patterns go with the provincial type room.

It has been proved that radiant heat has no damaging effect on rugs and carpets. Constant heat or condensation of moisture that might cause mildew does not injure the fiber. However, there is a slight loss of heat due to the insulating effect of the carpet. The amount of this loss depends upon the construction of the carpet lining used, and the extent to which the floor is covered.

DIES IN POVERTY

NEW YORK—Ottmar Mergenthaler, who spent 20 years inventing the linotype machine, is said to have died in poverty.

Annual receipts of Pennsylvania hotels and tourist courts amount to more than 119 million dollars, according to the Census bureau.

Rowland Named State Trustee

In a recent story filed out of Harrisburg by the wire services concerning the election and appointment of trustees of Pennsylvania State college, the story seems to have been told only partially.

The story said that W. F. Ulerich of Clearfield had been appointed a trustee of the college by Governor Fine to replace Roger W. Rowland of New Castle, apparently indicating that Mr. Rowland had been dropped from the board.

The story was incomplete. Mr. Rowland's term as a trustee had expired and he was asked to stand for election as a trustee elected by the Granges, Industries and Professional organizations of the state, instead of being listed as a gubernatorial appointee.

Governor Fine was approached upon the idea and agreed that the change was agreeable to him. The governor then appointed Mr. Ulerich, and Mr. Rowland was elected at the same time and for the same term, three years, effective June 15. In addition he has been re-elected as a member of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Rowland is a graduate of Penn State and for years has been a member of the board of trustees and the executive committee. He has been active in the building program of the college.

Each year ten trustees are named to the board. Three are by gubernatorial appointment, three are from the alumni and four are elected by the delegates of the Granges, Industries and Professional organizations.

Congressman Will Appeal Conviction On Fund Charges

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(INS)—Rep. Brehm (R) O., filed notice that he will appeal his conviction on charges of taking illegal political contributions from a clerk in his office.

The 58-year-old house veteran was given a five to 15 month suspended sentence and fined $5,000 after he was found guilty of violating the corrupt practices act.

He was convicted by a jury of accepting $1,000 in salary "kickback" contributions from Mrs. Emma S. Craven in 1948.

Brehm has retained his seat in congress despite the conviction. Only the house itself has the authority to remove one of its members.

He was re-elected last fall to his fifth term from Ohio's 11th district despite the kickback charges which were an issue in the campaign.

Yearly Sessions Of Legislature In State Proposed

HARRISBURG, June 22.—(INS)—A proposed amendment to the state constitution providing for annual sessions of the general assembly was approved finally Thursday by the legislature.

The senate, where the bill was introduced by Sen. T. Newell Wood (R) Luzerne, concurred in a house amendment fixing March 1 as the opening date for sessions in years when governors take office. January 1 would be the starting date for sessions in other years.

The amendment must pass another session of the legislature and be approved by a majority of the electorate to be effective.

The proposal would also allow annual budget estimates instead of two-year forecasts.

Local Soldier In Honor Guard For General McArthur

Local friends will be interested to learn that M/Sgt. Robert R. Farrell, of Co. C., 307 Military Police Battalion, stationed at Camp Bullis, Texas, was a member of the honor guard for General Douglas MacArthur during his recent visit to San Antonio, Tex.

Sgt. Farrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Farrell, of 201 Vine street, this city. Mrs. Farrell is a Gold Star Mother from World War Two.

Sgt. Farrell is operations sergeant of the 307th M. P. Bn., which is the highest rated M.P. organization in the Fourth Army area.

Sgt. Farrell's wife and son are residing in San Antonio with him at the present time. His home address here is R.D. 2, West Washington street extension.

Many Fireworks Displays Being Shipped For Fourth

Over 600 individual fireworks displays have been shipped from the Vitale Fireworks Manufacturing company, this city—the displays to reach 44 states in the Union.

With the Fourth of July less than two weeks away, a day and night shift is in progress at the plant in an effort to meet the mounting demands for the holiday displays. R. J. Vitale, owner of the manufacturing company, stated that 20 people are working at the plant, which is located two miles west of New Castle in Union township.

Being one of the largest fireworks manufacturing companies, Mr. Vitale stated that thus far about 20 carloads of displays were sent out by rail to various parts of the country this month alone.

"R. J." as he is called, is in charge of the manufacturing end of the fireworks enterprise. His two brothers, Peter and Tony Vitale, are in charge of the displays.

At the present time, Peter Vitale has one of the largest displays in the country at the 250th anniversary celebration at Detroit, Mich. It will "go off" on the Fourth of July.

Tony Vitale has one of his largest displays at the community celebration at Ft. Wayne, Ind. That display also will be viewed on July 4. In speaking about a display, "R. J." explained that it contains many types of fireworks. They range from aerial bombs to breaks and novelty effect shells and multiple break shells. Then there is the favorite pinwheel, and the one appropriate for America's celebration of her independence—the American flag with flare.

Alliance D.V.B.S. Closing Program

Plans have been completed for the annual program of the Daily Vacation Bible school of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, which will take place this evening at 7:45 o'clock in the church.

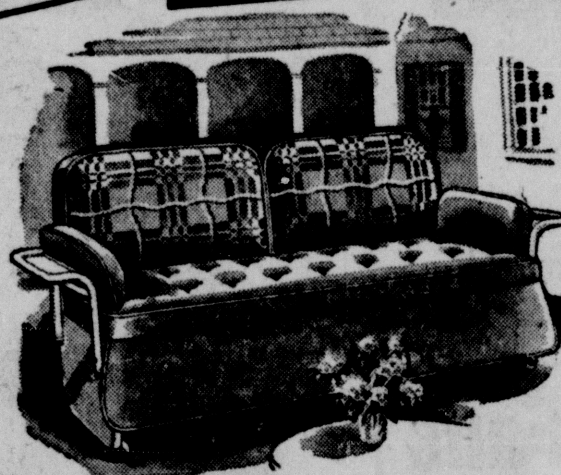

Director of the school, Mrs. Benjamin Jenkins, will be in charge of the program, which will include recitation of memory work, singing of choruses and other demonstrations.

The work accomplished by the youngsters will be on display in the church. School sessions have been in progress for the past two weeks daily with a large group of teachers and assistants aiding in the work. The school has been most successful.

Hobby Shows Are Playground Special Event

Yetta Ginsburg, Raymond Fabian, and Bobby Young won first place prizes at Laurel, Farrell, and Boyles playgrounds this week in the first of the playgrounds special events.

At Laurel the first prize winner exhibited a collection of story-book dolls; second place winner, Janice DeVivo, a miniature object collection; and third place winner, Theresa Palmer, a model horse collection.

Judges there were David Todd, Bob Palmer, and Carolyn Moss. A miniature horse hobby-collection won first prize at Farrell playground for Raymond Fabian, and second and third place awards went to Frank Bogdiewicz and Catherine Schuffert for rare-stamp and Indian arrow head collections.

Mrs. Wm. McCullough, Mrs. Herbert Ridgely, and Olive Black, playground instructor were the show's judges.

Bobby Young's collection of pipes from different countries won Laurel's first place prize. Mary Ann Russo's doll collection was awarded second, and Ruth Dangerfield's sea shells, napkins, and post cards were third place winners.

The judges were Mrs. Robert Doyle, Mrs. Richard Doyle, and instructor Ina Gerson.

Special event for all playgrounds next week is the pet show.

Will Fly Local Missionary Home

Miss Norma Donnan, native of this city, and missionary to French West Africa, will be flown home from Africa to New York on Saturday, due to illness, it is learned by her grandmother, Mrs. Ora McCullough of R. D. 3.

Miss Donnan will undergo an operation in New York City next week the message state. Miss Donnan, who is the daughter of Mrs. Ida Donnan of San Jose, Calif., has been serving under the Christian and Missionary Alliance in French West Africa, as a printer missionary.

The former local girl has been seriously ill a number of times while on the field and has been hospitalized there.

SILVER WEDDING FOR JOHN MASTRANGELOS

Mr. and Mrs. John Mastrangelo, of 811 DuShane street, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on Thursday, June 21.

At 7:30 a. m., the couple and their immediate families attended Holy Mass in the St. Lawrence church, Hillsville. Mr. Mastrangelo's brother, Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Mastrangelo, was celebrant of the mass, which was offered for the intention and in honor of the two guests. The couple renewed their nuptial vows, and the wedding rings of Mrs. Mastrangelo were blessed.

Anthony Mastrangelo, a student of St. Fidelis Seminary, Herman, Pa., presided at the organ during the mass.

Immediately afterwards a delicious breakfast was served in the parish house with Mr. Mastrangelo's sister, Lena, as the hostess. She was assisted in serving at the lovely table by Mrs. Teresa Mastrangelo, Mrs. Nick Mastrangelo and Catherine Mastrangelo.

On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Mastrangelo headed the reception line at an informal open house held at their residence. They were the recipient of many lovely gifts, cards, telegrams and flowers from well wishers. In addition many called to extend their congratulations.

On Sunday, June 24, their daughter, Camille, will be hostess at a dinner party to be given to members of the family. It will be held at the residence.

STEINBRINK-KUZMA ENGAGEMENT NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Hal F. Roper of 503 Spruce street announce the engagement of their daughter, Jeanne A. Steinbrink, to Peter J. Kuzma, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kuzma of Blaine Hill, Elizabeth, Pa.

The bride-elect is employed by the Fish Dry Cleaning company, this city, while Mr. Kuzma is employed by the E. Smith Construction company, of Pittsburgh.

A July wedding is planned by the couple.

M. C. Missionary Society Margaret Copeland Missionary society of Third U. P. church assembled in the home of Mrs. Clyde Hennon, East Washington street, for their June meeting. Mrs. Walter Bixler led devotions, while Mrs. J. Paul Graham conducted the prayer cycle. Mrs. H. J. Hollis, who was responsible for the program, discussed "European Missions".

Mrs. Allen Cartwright, Mrs. Scott Munell, Mrs. Mary Caldwell and Miss Gladys Yoho, co-hostesses, aided Mrs. Hennon in serving lunch. A picnic will be held July 17 at the home of Mrs. Samuel Mooney, Walmo.

Ace-Hi Club Meets
Mrs. Martin Bergland, of Titusville, houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kightlinger, North Mercer street, was a special guest when members of the Ace-Hi club held their meeting at the Elks home. High score awards for cards went to Mrs. Kightlinger and Mrs. Norman Freeborne.

Members will meet again next Wednesday at the Elks home.

Local Planes To Take Part In Program

"Operation Satellite," civil air defense problem, will begin its two-day problem Saturday at the Greens County Airport, Waynesburg, Pa., for the purpose of setting up and operating emergency flight bases. Air and ground personnel from the New Castle, Pittsburgh and Washington groups will participate in this vital phase of emergency type procedure.

This is the first large operation where Cadet participation is the major factor.

To Compete For Prizes
New Castle aircraft time at the Greens County Airfield is 1300 hours or 1:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. C.A.P. aircraft owners will contend for prizes in bomb dropping, spot landing and other contests of that nature. Capt. Karl G. Walters, Commanding Officer of the New Castle Group, stated today.

Operational Commandant will be Major (CAP) O. C. Brinkerhoff of Pittsburgh. Lt. Walton A. Crooks of Pittsburgh will be Cadet Commandant. Operational officer from New Castle, First Lt. C. H. Schweinsberg, will be assistant to Lt. J. B. Cornelius of Pittsburgh. The hourly events scheduled will be under these men.

Radio communications will be maintained at all times between Greens County Airport and the Group Command radio at Allegheny County Airport at Pittsburgh during the operations. First aid unit tent will be set up and manned by Cadets of the Irwin Squadron under the direction of C.A.P. medical officer, Lt. Col. Claude W. McKee.

Meet At 7:30 A.M.
Mobile units of the New Castle Squadron will rendezvous at the Post Office on Sunday, June 24, at 7:30 a.m. They will proceed to Midland, Pa., where they will rendezvous with other units of the New Castle Group. This includes Lawrence, Beaver, Butler, Venango and Mercer counties.

New Castle Group will proceed from Midland to Greens County Airfield where they will participate in their part of the civil air defense problem, "Operation Satellite."

Fatalities Blamed On Human Failures

PITTSBURGH, June 22.—(INS)—A report by the U. S. Bureau of Mines today blamed more than two-thirds of the 76 fatal accidents in Pennsylvania anthracite mines during the last ten months of 1950 on "human failure."

The Bureau Mines said that conclusion was reached after a study of reports made by the federal coal mine inspectors who investigated the accidents.

The reports stated that 54 of the 76 fatalities, or 71 per cent, resulted from human failure and only 18 fatal accidents, or 24 per cent, occurred under circumstances where the danger could not have been foreseen.

The cause of four others, or five per cent, could not be determined.

Extermination Only Cure

NEW YORK, June 22.—As a working newspaperman, I have never been called for jury duty, so I have avoided to date a moral dilemma that has troubled me from time to time.

As a reporter I have covered my share of murder trials. And I have always wondered, if I were in the jury box, if I could conscientiously help send another human being to the gallows or the electric chair.

The problem has resolved itself for me within the past seven days. With the greatest of ease, I could send to the chair, the gallows or the firing squad the dope peddler who destroys men more surely with his narcotics than the murderer does with bullet or blade or poison.

Advocates Death Penalty
I would like to advocate here and now the death penalty for adults convicted of selling dope.

The stories of teen-age dope addiction unfolded in public hearings in the state office building in Lower Manhattan during the past week are so chilling and terrifying as to convince me it is high time for the vigilantes to ride again unless the law is changed to deal adequately with the human scum preying on children in the schools.

A man or woman who will woo a child of 13 to the use of dope, who with intent sells him marijuana cigarettes as the first step toward the use of heroin and cocaine, who will deliberately murder the moral and intellectual fiber of a child, deserves less consideration than a mad dog.

At least the dog is mad through no fault of his own and reaps no financial benefit from his condition.

The depravity of the individual who sells dope, either as the aloof Mr. Big of the ring or as one of his lesser agents patrolling the profitable beat outside a school house, is such that no amount of moral suasion or corrective re-education is ever going to redeem him or make him a useful member of society.

Extermination Only Cure
The only cure for this type of degeneracy is extermination. To send such men to prison for from one to five years, the average sentence in New York state, or, in extreme cases, ten years, is ridiculous. With a one-to-five year sentence, the dope peddler, with what passes for good behavior in prison, is back on the street in a matter of months to take up where he left off.

Not even the revelations of the Kefauver committee, during its spectacular hearings in New York, or the evidences of widespread graft in the police department have rocked this city like the horrifying revelations of the sale and use of narcotics in school houses—the actual "sniffing" of heroin in the classroom under the very nose of teachers.

That—at a minimum—one out of every 200 children in the junior, senior and vocational high schools is a dope addict is only one of the horrifying facts that has developed out of the hearings. The fact that children are drug addicts is only more shocking in degree than the fact that drugs are for sale within the walls of the schools they attend.

If I were the mayor of New York I would toss out the whole public school hierarchy, beginning with William Jansen, the superintendent of schools. There has been enough testimony already to show that the chief worry of school officials was not about dope addiction within their province but with public knowledge of the situation. Sins of omission can be as damning as sins of commission.

The New York Journal-American did the community a public service when it printed a picture spread of the punks recently convicted and sentenced as dope peddlers. The pictures showed a group of revolting, worthless rats, all sentenced to relatively short terms in prison.

I say let's change the law. These men are murderers. String 'em up without mercy. They have shown none.

BONES IN SKULL
The human skull is composed of 22 bones.

Alderman To Handle Fireworks Cases

Any person, young or old, apprehended by police for shooting explosive fireworks in the city will be prosecuted by Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna before an alderman, according to Mayor John F. Haven.

"Everyone knows that is a violation of a city law to sell, possess or discharge explosive fireworks," Mayor Haven said. "Therefore, there is no use in bringing the case into police court."

Annually, as days near July 4, persons contrive to procure fireworks from various places and to set them off, often to the annoyance of neighborhoods, and with likelihood of injury to themselves.

In the past police have been lenient, in some instances, but in regard to more flagrant cases, fines have been administered by the mayor.

This year he has decided to change his attitude and will send all cases to an aldermanic office.

Pvt. DeRico Joins Fighting In Korea

Private DeRico, who has come and Mrs. Joseph DeRico, 1209 Clearview avenue, recently joined the 17th infantry regiment on the central front in Korea.

Private DeRico, who has completed six months in the army, attended the New Castle high school. His brother, corporal Patsy DeRico, is also serving with the US army.

American waitresses and waiters are tipped $2 billion a year.

OPPOSITES ATTRACT

NEW YORK CITY—Taking both sides of the summer jewelry story, Castlecliff comes forth with a pair of attractive opposites: All-white and all-black jewelry ensembles to complement cool summer costumes. At left, a multi-strand necklace of oblong beads is teamed with a shower cluster earrings. At the right a double-strand jet choker and matching short necklace, both spiced with rhinestone circlelets, are worn together with rhinestone-studded jet earrings.

Buxton Wins Combat Promotion In Korea

WITH THE 7TH INF. DIV. U. S. ARMY IN KOREA—Sergeant First Class James H. Buxton, son of Mrs. Louella Margaret Buxton, 214 E. North street, New Castle, recently won a combat promotion to sergeant for excellent performance of duty in Korean combat action. In eight months of Korean cam-paing, Buxton's unit has made two amphibious landings, traveled all the way from Pusan to the Manchurian border, and fought on both coasts of the Korean peninsula. Recently, the 32nd regiment helped blunt the communist spring offensive on the Korean central front.

Buxton and his buddies are eagerly awaiting their turn for rotation to the United States, which is working on a "fighting man first" basis.

Ready To Open Boy Scout Camp Agawam, June 24

Preparations have been completed for the opening of Boy Scout Camp Agawam, on the Slippery Rock Creek, June 24.

Scouts are requested to be at Camp between 2 and 4 p. m., and upon arrival prepare to register and pay the balance of camp fees.

Following this, a physical recheck will be conducted by J. Wesley Post, chairman of the health and safety of the Lawrence County Council.

Scouts will then go to the waterfront for a swimming test to determine their swimming classification for the week.

Scoutmasters will organize the boys into patrols of their respective troops, and a retreat ceremony will be conducted at 5:30 p. m., in the charge of Clifford L. Jones, assistant camp director.

Opening campfire will be held at 8:30 p. m., and will be open to visitors, according to J. C. Hildebrand, Lawrence County Scout Executive, and Camp Director.

Reasons For Buying Land Are Given By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON

(Copyright, 1951, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 22.—People say that most land is now too high to buy. I do not believe this. The price of new homes seems high—three times what they sold for in the "thirties"—but both good lots and fertile acreage are still comparatively cheap. There are three reasons why I believe everyone should own a little land.

First, there is only just so much land within a certain area—and there never will be any more. It is easy to make more stocks and bonds. The government can always print more dollar bills when taxes do not balance the budget. New houses, factories and stores can be built; but the amount of land is fixed. There is today no more land within five miles of your postoffice than there was thousands of years ago and there will be no more a thousand years from now. So, you had better own some that you can use or rent.

A second reason why I would like to see everyone own a little land is because land is the source of everything we have. Land gives us not only food, but also clothing and shelter. We just can't get on without it. The third reason is that to own a little land is a human instinct like the craving for food, children or other basic things. Therefore, land will never go out of style.

Buy Land Which Carries Itself

When buying land get something which carries itself or "pays its board," so to speak. Vacant lots or unused acreage can quickly "eat their heads off." If you pay $1,000 for a vacant lot, the taxes and interest on what you pay could amount to $1,000 in ten years. This means you must then sell it for $2,000 in order to make a penny. Hence, the importance of getting enough income to pay these carrying charges. These—in case of a building—must also include cost of insurance and maintenance.

The above explains why I like woodland, upon which the taxes are low. The trees will grow enough to balance the taxes and interest cost. Moreover, trees grow seven days a week, including Sundays and holidays! They have no labor unions which limit them to growing only eight hours a day, nor do they practice "birth control" to prevent them from multiplying. Their only enemies are fires and debt. Fires are getting better controlled every year; and you can now get mortgages which can be paid off over 20 years, as you get the money.

Don't Hoard Land

The above is not written for rich investors. It is just as dangerous to hoard land as to hoard anything else. Thus, don't attempt to buy too much land. Too big family holdings might some day be divided and sold very cheaply by the U. S. government, as has been done by several other governments. Or, there might be a graduated real estate tax, increasing as the number of acres increase.

In fact, it is wisest not to concentrate on any form of investment. Don't get hip on anything: railroads, motors, steels, chemicals, department stores or anything else. Proper diversification is the first rule of successful investing. Yes, you can even become "land poor" by having too much land that produces no income in the form of rents, crops or woodland growth.

My European Friend

I have a European friend who, only ten years ago, was a very rich woman in Poland. She had a beautiful home of 60 rooms; she had 50,000 acres of forest land; she had valuable paintings and other works of art. But when the Russians overran Poland, she could not take away any of these. (She had no stocks or bonds except Polish governments, which became worthless.)

My friend, however, had some valuable jewelry, including many diamonds. These she concealed on her person and got away. She is now in the United States living humbly on these diamonds and such work as she can get. This friend of mine advises all women to diversify their investments by having some good jewelry. Don't put everything in stocks or bonds or even in land!

Summer Vesper Series Planned

Ministers Plan
Services During Summer In City

New Castle Ministerial Association, in conjunction with the New Castle Council of Churches has arranged for a series of Summer vesper services to be held in several churches of the city during the summer months.

The services open in the Central Christian church, East Long avenue on Sunday evening, July 1 and then alternate at the Highland U. P. and Epworth churches for the remainder of the period with the exception of the final service on September 2 which is to take place at the Central church.

Rev. A. C. Schultz, pastor of First Methodist church has been program coordinator. Local and visiting speakers will be heard during the period with local churches providing the special music.

Summer Schedule

The following schedule will be placed in effect: July 1, Central Christian church, Dr. A. C. Schultz, speaker; Dr. J. Paul Graham, leader; First Methodist church, music; July 8, Highland U. P., Rev. Thomas J. Jones, speaker; Rev. J. L. McFarland, leader; First Congregational, music.

July 15, Epworth Methodist, Rev. Dale Milligan, speaker; Rev. Paul Walthour, leader; Highland U. P. music.

July 22, Highland U. P., Dr. Russell J. Humbert, Trinity Methodist church, Youngstown, speaker; Rev. A. C. Howe, leader; Epworth church, music.

July 29, Epworth, Rev. Robert H. Mayo, speaker; Rev. E. F. Spring, leader; First U. P., music.

August 5, Highland U. P., Rev. Russell Stevenson, Board of Foreign Missions, church, speaker; Rev. James N. Rainey, leader; Central Christian, music.

August 12, Epworth, Dr. Will W. Orr, president Westminster college, speaker; Rev. O. G. Shindedecker, leader; Mahoning Methodist, music.

August 19, Highland U. P., James D. Brown, missionary to Pakistan, India, speaker; Rev. D. T. McIntosh, leader; Third U. P., music.

August 26, Epworth, Rev. F. A. Duncan, speaker; Dr. G. S. Bennett, leader; Croton Methodist, music.

September 2, Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, speaker; Dr. R. M. Patterson, leader; First Presbyterian church, music.

MOON SCHEDULE

On an average, the moon rises 50 minutes later each day.

T.V. Censorship By Government Ruled Impractical

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, June 22.—(INS)—Chairman Wayne Coy of the Federal Communications Commission today ruled out any government censorship of television as "impractical" despite public complaints of "excessive nudity, indecency and obscenity" on TV programs.

Coy told the National Association of radio and television broadcasters that "many of the evils complained of today would disappear if the licensee of a TV station took charge in his own house."

In a breakdown of nearly 1,000 public complaints received by the FCC over a 75-day period, Coy said that "indecent, obscene or profane" could be regarded as leading the list.

Regarding pending legislation in Congress to amend the communications act to give the FCC power of censorship which it now is specifically denied, Coy said:

"The commission believes that the establishment of any censorship board for television... even assuming that the action of such a board could be kept within the constitutional limitations by confining its action to the prohibition of material which is obscene, lewd or lascivious, would be extremely impractical."

He pointed out that any censorship board would run into difficulties because most TV program material is "live" or unrehearsed.

Maritime Strike On Pacific Coast Has Been Settled

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—(INS)—The Pacific coast maritime strike ended today just one week after it began with agreement reached between the American Radio association (CIO) and the Pacific Maritime association on wages and working conditions.

Federal Conciliator Omar Hoskins announced just before midnight in San Francisco that the striking radio operators and the employer group had come to a settlement. Details were not immediately announced.

The dispute between the CIO union and the PMA had tied up all American flagships on the Pacific coast not engaged in the Korea war lift.

from the Cornell avenue bridge in nearby Ross township as Mrs. Anna Barth Kapp, 69, who had been reported missing from her home since Tuesday.

BLACK COATS

PARIS—The Paris fashion house of Calixte is showing something new in the way of a beach coat in its summer collection. Made of royal blue tulle, this comfortable coat is cut like a redingote with four deep box-pleats growing out of a shoulder yoke at the back. The coat has wide, tailored lapels, is worn with a large belt and the short, wide sleeves are turned back to form cuffs.

HAT FLOWER POT

RICHMOND, Va.—Mrs. Julian Todd tried to find some way to stiffen a floppy, loose-ribbed white crocheted hat she made for summer wear. She tried starch and other suggested ways to no avail. Finally she tried a sugar solution and now is considering using the hat for a flower pot.

ROSY WELCOME

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Flower lovers have a rosy welcome from James Lyne, gardening enthusiast. Lyne, whose garden contains nearly 500 plants, extended a standing invitation to flower lovers to "come to my garden as often as you please and stay as long as you like."

Says Truman to Run Little Yankee Inn Hotel For Kiddies

GENEVA, Ill.—(INS)—There's a unique little hotel in Geneva, where all the guests are under seven years old.

The hotel, is exclusively for children, and has been named, rather aptly, the Little Yankee Inn.

It's operated by a Pediatrician, Dr. Robert Sykes, and combines the whimsy of a day nursery with the science of a Children's Hospital.

For its small-sized guests, who can be as young as two weeks, the Inn provides a safe storybook home while their parents are ill or out of town.

The little clients enjoy it so much that the hotel has never had a case of homesickness, thanks to room service which includes bedtime stories, and lullaby music.

The dormitories are decorated in blue and white, with Mother Goose characters parading on the walls. Each child has a bed and a dresser. The children get up at seven and are washed, brushed and dressed for breakfast at eight.

Sea lion pups are born singly.

TO THE PUBLIC

The bus drivers of the Shenango Valley Transportation Company wish to keep the public informed as to why there has been no bus service in the Valley the past 18 days.

First, our contract is wide open and not bound by arbitration. Mr. Friedman during the past several years refused to arbitrate on one occasion a dispute we had in the garage during our contract year. He still refuses to let the W. S. B. or Federal Arbitration Board, composed of 18 men settle the dispute. Not once during the 60 days of negotiations did he suggest arbitration. Why all the fuss about arbitration now?

The drivers are receiving $1.28 per hour and the Mechanics $1.38 per hour. We are asking for a 10% raise across the board, willing to accept 10c per hour across the board with the balance of the 10% going before the Federal Review Board and abide by their verdict.

Mr. Friedman told our committee when he applied for a fare increase he would be happy if he received a 5 to 8% fare increase. He received a 25% fare increase after our negotiations closed.

We are asking for a living wage and not Dictatorial powers as one member of the New Castle press claims we are exercising. To our way of thinking he has tried to put the shoe on the wrong side, as the men that have been scheduled for vacations since strike started, have been denied their vacation pay. A large number of our men were entitled to 40 dollars sick pay, payable at the end of contract year, have been denied this money. He also withheld from our pay $25 belt money. It seems to us this commentator has accused the wrong side for exercising Dictatorial powers.

An Editorial in New Castle Paper, "Let's get them Rolling." We will be glad to when we receive a fair wage for our hire.

Says Private Auto Has No Place In Congested Areas

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—A leading transportation engineer declared Thursday that the private automobile "has no place" in congested urban centers and is rapidly strangling the economic life of big cities.

George M. Woods, of Westinghouse Electric Corp., said that in many Metropolitan areas private automobile registration has jumped 80 per cent since 1945.

The expenditure of millions of dollars for boulevards, parkways, and street-widening, Woods asserted, has not solved the problem.

The flood of private automobiles, he added, soon overflows the new facilities to the same extent as the old.

Woods told a Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon that "public transportation" must replace the use of private automobiles on a large scale in central business areas to alleviate traffic congestion.

He claimed that workers and shoppers driving private cars to urban centers are paying a premium of from $27 to $492 annually for the privilege.

Woods pointed out the cost of driving private automobiles to central business areas is increased beyond the cost of public transportation by parking fees as well as operational expenses.

The Westinghouse engineer suggested staggered working hours and fewer stops by transit vehicles as additional ways of easing urban traffic congestion.

He also supported "justifiable increases" in public transit fares resulting from rises in labor and material costs.

"An impoverished transit system," Woods said, "hurts the whole city."

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A lovely lady tripped on the stairs and broke her leg. The doctor put it in a cast and warned her that she wasn't to attempt going up or down stairs until it came off. Four months later he removed the cast and pronounced her well on the way to recovery.

"Goody, goody," gurgled the lady. "Is it all right for me to walk the stairs now?" "Yes," said the doctor, "if you will promise to be careful."

"I can't tell you what a relief it will be," confessed the lady. "It was such a nuisance crawling outside and shinning up and down that drainpipe all the time."

Donald Clark quotes a Columbia professor's appraisal of a high-flying colleague: "Such time as he can spare from the adornment of his person, he devotes to the neglect of his profession."

From 1940 to 1949, inclusive, American railroads performed 570 billion passenger miles of service, and had only 697 passenger fatalities—less than one fatality for each passenger carried the equivalent of 258,000 times between New York and San Francisco.

Ex-Bellhop Buys Fabulous Mansion

LOWER MERION TWP., Pa., June 22.—(INS)—An ex-bellhop, who once regarded Mickey Duffy as "more or less of a God", has purchased the fabulous mansion which once guarded the late gangster from underworld bullets.

Joseph J. Lembo, Jr., 39, a wealthy beer distributor and president of a Brazilian mining company, bought the Lower Merion township house at public auction for $40,500.

"Mickey lived at the Ritz-Carlton hotel in Philadelphia when I was a bellhop there," Lembo recalled. "I looked on Mickey more or less as a god because of the way he threw his money around in tips. 'I was a young kid, easily impressed,' he continued. 'Everytime I took a bucket of ice to his room it was good for a two dollar bill.'"

Lembo, his wife, Doris and their daughter, Annette, 12, plan to move into the fortress-like place as soon as the former owner, Harold A. Harold, vacates.

Duffy, beer baron and racketeer, was slain by a gunman in an Atlantic City hotel in 1931, a year after he paid $65,000 for the house with secret hiding places and marble mantelpieces.

A Philadelphia detective, who watched the 500 prospective bidders, commented wryly: "Mike should have been alive to see this. He'd have loved it."

Not All Of Farm Employees Under Social Security

"Berry-pickers, apple-harvesters and other temporary or seasonal farm employees will not have the protection of the new social security law," says Myron Milbourn, manager of the New Castle social security office.

He estimates, however, that 750 or more regular farm employees in Lawrence and Butler counties will now have their wages credited toward old-age and survivors insurance.

"Before he can be covered by social security, the farm worker must first work for a farmer for three months, to establish a service relationship," the local manager explained. "This period can include the last three months of 1950."

"After the initial three months of work, the farmhand will be under social security if he continues to work for the same employer at least 60 days out of every three months, provided he earns at least $50 in cash wages during that period."

"If he changes jobs, he must work another three months for the new employer before his work will begin counting toward social security."

Farm workers covered under the new law will have the same social security rights, including old-age retirement benefits and family death benefits, as workers in business or industry, Mr. Milbourn said. They are not eligible for unemployment compensation, however, as that is a state program and was not affected by the recent changes in the federal social security law.

Farm workers who will be covered by social security should obtain social security cards if they have not already done so. Those who have had a card sometime in the past, but lost it, should ask for a duplicate.

Application blanks for social security cards may be obtained from the local social security office, 500 Frew building in New Castle or from any post office.

Long Distance Calls Soon To Be On Dial System

A new telephone "operator toll dialing" system, by which long distance telephone operators here and in a number of other western Pennsylvania communities may dial calls directly to telephones hundreds of miles away, will be placed in operation early in July by the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania, it was announced today.

The project, which has cost the company more than $8,000,000, enables operators to reach distant telephones without "passing" calls to other operators along the route. In most cases, only one operator will be involved in a call.

Subscribers will continue to place their calls in the usual manner.

Telephone officials said the new system would result in speedier and more efficient connections.

Urges Safe Driving On July Fourth

"Top many reckless motorists wreck their own and other people's lives on the Fourth of July," Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna said today.

"Pointing out that 491 persons died in traffic accidents over the Fourth last year, Chief Hanna urged the city's residents to drive with extra care and caution. 'Holidays always bring heavy traffic and extra hazards," he said. He pledged his department's wholehearted support to the nationwide Fourth of July safety campaign being coordinated by the National Safety Council.

Chief Hanna advised motorists to start early if they plan an all day trip, so there will be no need to hurry. "Slow down at sundown," he added, "and be patient in heavy traffic. Don't let anyone make you take chances with your own or someone else's life. Avoid abrupt stops and turns, and be careful in passing another vehicle. Drive sensibly and obey legal speed limits. They are for your protection."

Excessive speed is involved in one out of every three fatal traffic accidents, Chief Hanna pointed out.

Purchasers Have Dinner

June Meeting Is Held At Castleton

Members of the New Castle Purchasing Agents Association had their June meeting, in the form of a dinner, at The Castleton, Wednesday evening, with A. R. McCoy, of Grove City presiding. Immediate past president E. Frank Strizzi gave a report on past activities, after which he turned the gavel over to the new president, Mr. McCoy, of the Cooper-Bessemer Corporation.

Mr. McCoy paid tribute to the fine work done by Mr. Strizzi, and wished him much success in his new capacity as national director. Mr. McCoy then outlined his program for the coming year and announced the appointment of various committees.

The speaker of the evening was Maurice E. Carlisle, newly-elected vice president of the Sixth District, who is purchasing agent for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company. J. W. Lamore, of the Shenango Tube company, of Sharon, was welcomed to membership, and R. W. Irwin, of the Standard Steel Spring company, and H. C. Jones, of the Cooper-Bessemer Corporation, were introduced as guests.

The next meeting of the association will take place on September 20, at The Castleton, when the fall program will get under way.

N.S.A. Chapter Has Installation

Impressive installation ceremonies for the New Castle Chapter of the National Secretaries Association took place Thursday evening at their dinner-meeting. The event was held at a tavern in New Wilmington, with a delicious dinner being served at 6:30 o'clock.

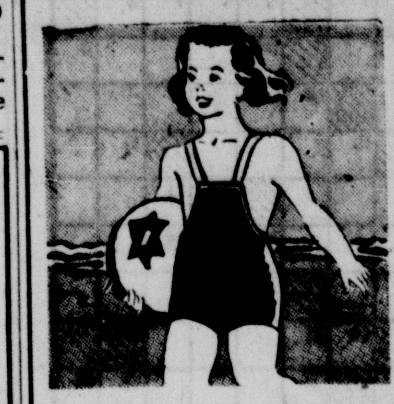

Miss Olive Webb, retiring president took charge of the installation which was held by candle light—with symbolic colors of the rainbow used. Those installed who assumed their new positions were:

President, Miss Lucille Emery, of the Pennsylvania Power company; vice-president, Miss Virginia Jacobucci; recording secretary, Lucia Kivine; corresponding secretary, Helen Keder; and treasurer, Magdalene Knarr.

At the close of the program, Miss Webb was presented with a lovely gift for her untiring work as president. The gift was from the board of directors. She responded graciously.

Delegates to the convention were announced. They are Olive Webb and alternate Florence Davis. They will leave on July 13, for Houston.

Highland U.P. Pupils To Present Program

Pupils of the Daily Vacation Bible school will present their concluding program for parents and friends this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Highland U. P. church. An exhibition of handicraft will also be an added feature. Mrs. E. L. Thompson, director of the project, has been assisted by a corps of teachers and helpers. The staff enjoyed a luncheon, served by Mrs. Russell Mann, Mrs. Howard Gardner and Mrs. A. H. Lewis, at noon today in the church.

Alumni Association Plans Dinner Event

East Brook Alumni Association is planning for a tureen dinner event on Saturday, June 23, at the New Wilmington park. A number of important matters will be discussed during the business meeting in charge of Irvin Stunkard, president. Among these will be the alumni honor roll. A short program has been arranged for the children with swimming to be enjoyed. Ruth Cox, secretary, is handling dinner arrangements. The meeting will be the 44th annual one of the association.

Local Infantrymen In Korean Action

WITH THE 7TH INF. DIV., U.S. ARMY IN KOREA—Two New Castle infantrymen recently arrived in Korea and joined the 17th infantry regiment on the fighting front in central Korea.

Private George L. Johnson, 23, husband of Mrs. Etta Johnson, R.D. 4, and Private Casimir S. Biedka, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Biedka, 116 Ralph avenue, received their basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

To supplement this training, seasoned veterans of the Korean campaign further trained them in the use of the bayonet, hand grenades, light and heavy machine guns and other infantry weapons in preparation for their front line assignments.

Biedka attended New Castle high school and was employed by the Johnson Bronze company before his induction.

Johnson attended Harlansburg high school and was employed by the Grocery Wholesale Co.

Financial Report Of Almira Home

Due to a typographical error, several lines of treasurer's report of the Almira Home board of trustees meeting was omitted from the story in The News on Wednesday. The report should have read: Balance and receipts from May 31, 1950 to May 31, 1951, totaled $37,828.41, disbursements totaled $37,804.01, leaving a balance of $24.40.

Because of ill health, Dr. B. E. Sankey has resigned as physician for the home. In his stead, Dr. A. L. Hoffmaster has benevolently given of his time as the physician for the home.

Thinks People Should Be Told Of Atomic Targets

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 22—(INS)—Sen. Hunt (D) Wyo., a witness at the Eniwetok atomic test, said that Americans should be told what cities would be the targets for a Russian atomic attack.

Hunt, an armed services committee member and the only senator to see the explosions, also demanded that the government make public the number of Soviet A-bombs.

He described the blast at Eniwetok as a blinding flash, a loud, muffled explosion and a vast ball of light-colored smoke churning upward like "suds folding over each other in a washer."

The senator, who has seen explosions of conventional weapons and the bombed-out cities of Munich and Frankfurt, said there is no comparison between the blasts of the old and new weapons and their respective effects.

Unbelievably Bright Flash

Hunt described the Eniwetok blast this way:

"First there was an unbelievably bright flash, and instantaneously, a wave of heat."

"As the cloud takes the place of the blinding flash, there are flames and the ball of fire moving and revolving in the light-colored smoke for several seconds."

"Then, as it begins to rise in mushroom form, it is like the suds inside a washing machine, churning upwards and folding over on each other."

"Then came a loud, muffled 'bang'—neither sharp like a rifle shot, nor like the crushing sound of a falling building."

"If the A-bomb is used against an American city, its residents—or at least those some distance from the burst, will experience some degrees of concussion and burns, depending on their distance from the blast."

Hunt added:

"The question of areas remaining radioactive for any length of time is not one of importance."

The senator did not indicate whether he believes new methods of decontamination have been developed, or whether the earlier fears of long-living radiation have been found less serious than had been believed.

Ought To Be Told More

His reaction immediately after the explosion, he said, was that the people ought to be told more about what to expect when a bomb drops. He said:

"It occurred to me that we will not get this civil defense program over to the people until they know what to expect."

Not only should they be told more about the devastation the A-bomb, but they should be told the probable targets and how many bombs Russia—the only other nation with atomic weapons—could be expected to use. He said:

"I believe there should be a news release telling the people the number of bombs Russia possesses, and the probable places she would drop them."

"This should be accompanied by a statement of the almost positively-known results. That would be all that would be necessary."

Hunt said that bombs like those tested at Eniwetok would demolish a city. He declared:

Impossible To Cope With

"It would create a problem that seems impossible to cope with. Only one of many problems would be that there would be no possible way of getting sufficient hospital and medical care for victims."

Hunt said that after seeing the blast, he is more convinced than ever that the civil defense program which he helped draft should be implemented with adequate funds. He said:

"Roughly 65 to 70 percent of American industry is within a land area of approximately 10 percent of the U. S."

"A-bombs dropped in this concentrated manufacturing area would drastically interrupt our production. A few well-placed bombs could drastically interfere with our defense program."

The senator added:

"I think the people of the cities of the United States should be told in very plain English what would happen—that a bomb burst over their city would be a colossal catastrophe that would wipe out huge areas."

Local Y-Teens Represent Area

Two Y-Teens will represent the New Castle area YWCA at the tri-state Y-Teen summer conference being held at Bethany college in Bethany, W. Va., from July 17 to 23. The conference is an annual one for Y-Teens in the high school group and delegates attend from Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Janet Wade and Shirley Hill represent their club. They have been chosen to attend on the basis of outstanding work contributed to their club program during the past year.

"Tell Me Y" is the theme of the conference and the program for the week includes classes, recreation, worship activities and special events. The purpose of this conference is to enlarge the concepts of the delegates, to exchange club ideas and to train the Y-Teens further for roles of leadership.

White Sox Top Yanks 5-2, Dodgers And Cardinals Win

By HOWARD SIGMUND

(U. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, June 22.—The Yankees, who once greeted the White Sox threat with "they can run, but they can't hide," are wondering today whether those fantastic fellows aren't capable of both.

For the run-crazy, happy-go-lucky Sox proved to the baseball world that they can stand up there against the Yankees and battle 'em toe to toe. Their four game split in the Bombers' home ball yard left Paul Richards' band of base path jockeys three and a half games ahead in the American league race.

When the Chisox drew even by making off with the finale, 5 to 2, yesterday, they clearly demonstrated the day of folding may be a long way off—if it is to come at all. And the Yanks learned something else.

Indians Top Sox

The Cleveland Indians prepared the Sox for the Chicago invasion by belting them 8 to 4 as Sam Chapman had a field day. Chapman got four hits, drove home four runs and stole home.

The victory gave the Tribe the series, three games to one. Bob Cain, the fellow the Tigers got from Chicago for Rogovin, won his sixth game as he pitched the Bengals to a 9 to 3, seven-hit triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Don Johnson, aided by circuit clouts off the bats of Irv Noren and Mickey Vernon, pitched the Washington Senators to a 9 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

Dodgers-Cards Win

Brooklyn went zooming 6½ games ahead in the National league as they trimmed the Cincinnati Reds, 6 to 4.

Gerry Staley won his ninth game of the season as the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the New York Giants, 2 to 0. Staley gave up five hits.

Robin Roberts coasted to his eighth win as the Philadelphia Phillies blasted three homers to down the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10 to 5.

The Boston-Chicago game was rained out.

Kiner Returning To Left Field Spot In Pirates Lineup

PITTSBURGH, June 22.—(INS)—Another of Branch Rickey's experiments ends dismally tonight when the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates play the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Home run king Ralph Kiner will be moved back to his old spot in left field after more than three months at trying to play first base. Manager Bill Meyer said he will alternate Rocky Nelson, a left-handed batter, and Jack Phillips, a righty, at first base.

Previously Rickey tried to convert first baseman Dale Long into a left-handed catcher. Long was sold to the St. Louis Browns. Then Rickey tried moving outfielder Wally Westlake to third base. Westlake was traded to the St. Louis Cardinals where he is playing in the outfield.

CHURCHILL TAMES FORMER MATES

Green back in the Indians lineup after being called to Hagerstown, Md., by the illness of his father, had two singles and a double in the opening game.

Heads-Up Baseball

The aroused Indians after dropping 12 straight to Erie in the first game, played headsup, alert baseball in the night-cap and with a lot of hustle, finally conquered "objective Erie."

In the event of good weather tonight there should be another fine crowd on hand to root the Indians through to an even-even in the series.

Lockport defeated the Butler Tigers twice last night—6-5, and 5-2, and Niagara Falls topped the Oil City club 12-9, padding their second place spot over the third-place Indians.

New York Stocks

Stock Market Is Unsettled

NEW YORK, June 22.—(INS)—The stock market was unsettled today by weakness in Chrysler shares.

Chrysler sold down 1¼ points to a new low at 67½ on news that directors had failed to take action on a dividend for the third quarter usually taken at this time.

Rails also gave ground with A

and Delaware and Hudson oil at 44.

Southern Company was unusu-ly active in the utilities with a block of 25,000 shares changing hands at 11, off 1/8 and the yearlow.

Chandler Will Resign July 15

Informs Owners Of His Decision

CINCINNATI, O., June (INS)—Baseball commissioner B. "Happy" Chandler announced Thursday that he will resign effective July 15.

talk with Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds and presently acting as spokesman for major leagues.

Regarding future plans, Chandler said he has "several ideas in the fire" but nothing definite. He said "purely business" reports was to take a radio position with Mutual Broadcasting System.

Giles said Chandler would receive his full salary until expiration of his contract in the fall of next year. The Reds provided the commissioner was giving no extra financial consideration as rumored for stepping into office before his contract expired.

City Playground Schedule Heavy

Instructors Report Many Varied Events

Instructors from the George Washington, Dean Park, West Side, Croton and Mahoning playgrounds have turned in reports on many and numerous activities in this, the second week of the playground schedule. The event of the week was the hobby show.

Marie Olson of George Washington announced her hobby show winners which include: first place, Annette Clout for cartoon drawings; second place, Harry King Lockley for match cover collection; and third place, Billy and Eddie Hite for a unique popscicle stick collection.

The judges were Charles Cuba and Norman Genkinger. A pet show is planned for next week.

Dean Park's hobby show first, second and third place winners, according to instructor Betty Leddy, were: Carmen Lamancusa, Mary Heany and Rees Flannery.

The respective collections include a portfolio of cartoon drawings, an assortment of salt and pepper shakers and antiquated eye glasses.

Mrs. Covert, Mrs. Burgess and Mrs. Shotzberger served as judges.

A playground day contest was run off at Mahoningtown playground in which more than 30 participated. It was announced by playground director Kay Anderson. Hop-skotch featured the day's events and showed a winner Ann DeFelice.

West Side Winners

Sewing collections, photographs and pennants and painted figurines won first, second and third places at the West Side playground hobby show.

Patty O'Brien, Bob Gallagher and Sally Hogue were awarded the first, second and third place ribbons.

Phil Greenberg, "Doc" Walzer, Jimmy Carr and Abel Napodano acted as judges.

The hobby show also featured the Croton playground activities although an exhibition softball game between Mahoningtown juniors and Croton juniors was played Wednesday afternoon, which was won by Croton 21-7.

First place hobby show award was made to Barbara Picari for her hand-made dolls of pipe cleaners, second place to Mickey Lastoria for his bank collection, and third place to Ralph Cearfoss for German money.

The judges were Mrs. Ezzo, Mrs. Biondi and Mrs. Buyny. The playground director is Esther Lindstrom.
